CHIEFS OWNER

LAMAR HUNT

The man responsible not only for Kansas City football, but also for much of the design of professional football, is Chiefs founder Lamar Hunt.

As the founder of the franchise, Hunt has provided Kansas City a team that became the winningest franchise in the 10-year history of the American Football League and earned spots in two Super Bowls, including a World Championship in Super Bowl IV. As the organizer of the AFL, and an integral force in the merger with the NFL, Hunt has helped pave the way for much of the growth of pro football. Possibly the greatest tribute to his service to professional football is that the AFC Championship Trophy carries his name.

Another indication of his stature within the game is the fact he was the first AFL figure to be honored by enshrinement in the Pro Football Hall of Fame at Canton, Ohio. That high honor was bestowed on Hunt in the summer of 1972. At the induction ceremonies, Hunt's close friend and fellow AFL "original" Billy Sullivan of the New England Patriots described the Chiefs owner as the "architect, designer and builder of an impossible dream."

Hunt has since been honored by the NFL Alumni Association, winning the prestigious Leather Helmet Award in 1982. A year later, Hunt was inducted into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

In 1960, Hunt made pro football history, founding and organizing the AFL, which included his Dallas Texans franchise. After three years, the team moved to Kansas City, where the franchise recently celebrated its 25th year in Mid-America.

The early days of the AFL were difficult but Hunt saw his franchise achieve success quickly. In 1962, the Texans won the AFL Championship with an overtime victory over Houston, the first of three titles won by the Texans/Chiefs in the 10-year history of the league. They repeated as champions in 1966 and 1969. By winning the '66 title, the Chiefs earned the right to play in the first Super Bowl against the NFL champion Green Bay Packers. Three years later, Hunt's Chiefs claimed Kansas City's first World Championship by defeating the Minnesota Vikings in Super Bowl IV.

Hunt was a chief negotiator in the merger of the AFL and NFL in the late sixties and was one of the principal designers of the playoff format. In fact, it was Hunt who accidentally put the name "Super Bowl" on the NFL's Championship Game.

Clearly, Hunt has been a leader in the game for the past 29 years and continues to be respected by his peers. Few individuals, if any, have helped shape the game more than this quiet Texan. And few have helped the city of Kansas City prosper more over the past 26 years. In addition to bringing pro football to the area, Hunt, in 1973, developed a multi-million-dollar recreational Theme Park called "Worlds of Fun" and seven years ago he opened a Water Park called "Oceans of Fun." Hunt and his children are the principal owners of Kansas City's Hunt Midwest Enterprises.

An avid sports fan, Hunt is involved in several other entertainment ventures besides the Chiefs. He was one of the organizers and helped develop World Championship Tennis and is one of the founding investors in the Chicago Bulls of the NBA.

Hunt is also active as a member of the Board of Directors of NFL Charities, is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Pro Football Hall of Fame and serves on the NFL Alumni Association's Board of Directors. As President of the American Football Conference, Hunt is a regular member of three prominent NFL committees — Finance, Long Range Planning and Hall of Fame, and has additionally been involved in the Commissioner Search Committee as well as the body involved in researching the NFL's study of an international spring league.

Hunt was born August 2, 1932, in El Dorado, Arkansas and graduated from SMU with a B.S. in geology in 1956. While at SMU, Hunt was a reserve end on the football team. He and his wife, Norma, reside in Dallas and have four children, Lamar, Jr., Sharron, Clark and Daniel.

CHIEFS CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

JACK STEADMAN

After serving as both General Manager and President of the Kansas City Chiefs over the past 29 years, Jack Steadman begins his first season as the club's Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer. He resigned as President in December of 1988 to become Chairman of Lamar Hunt's Kansas City enterprises. His longterm service has played a vital role in the success of the franchise and its association with the community. Combining his management of the Chiefs and Lamar Hunt's other Kansas City-based operations with his wide-spread civic involvement, few individuals have had a stronger input into Kansas City since 1963.

Other than Hunt, Steadman is the only person who has been with the club every year since its inception in 1960. Hunt, who had founded the American Football League and the Dallas Texans earlier that year, hired Steadman as general manager of the team midway through the league's inaugural season.

Steadman had guided Hunt's football operations from day one until his resignation as president in December of 1988. He has been instrumental in the success of a franchise which has produced two Super Bowl berths, including the 1970 Super Bowl Championship, and the most successful record in the 10-year history of the AFL. He was promoted from general manager to executive vice president and general manager in 1966. He was named president of the Chiefs in 1976 and now begins his first year as chairman of the board.

It was Steadman who spearheaded pro football's existence in Mid-America, coordinating the move of the Dallas Texans to Kansas City in '63. Steadman also conceived the idea of Kansas City building the dual-stadium Harry S. Truman Sports Complex which houses the 78,000-seat Arrowhead Stadium and 41,000-seat Royals Stadium, regarded by many sports enthusiasts as the finest sports complex in the nation.

In his position as chairman and chief executive officer of Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc. — Hunt's multi-faceted corporation — Steadman operates two family recreation theme parks, Worlds of Fun and Oceans of Fun, and is involved in real estate development and limestone rock-mining in Kansas City.

The multiplicity of Steadman's civic involvement in the Kansas City community has reinforced his belief that the success of a professional sports franchise literally integrates with the community. His civic commitments include the following activities: Board of Directors, Starlight Theatre Association; Board of Directors, Full Employment Council; Board of Directors, Private Industry Council; Board of Directors, Civic Council of Greater Kansas City; Board of Directors, American Royal Association; Trustee, Midwest Research Institute.

He has also served as the chairman, president and campaign chairman of United Way. In addition, he was the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Kansas City, the Full Employment Council and the Private Industry Council. He served as president of the Starlight Theatre Association and was on the board of directors of Children's Mercy Hospital.

Steadman, who also is a member of the Board of Directors of Commerce Bank of Kansas City, was born September 14, 1928. He grew up in Warrenville, Ill., and in Dallas. He attended Baylor University and received his B.A. in business administration from Southern Methodist University. Jack and his wife, Martha, who also is involved in a number of civic organizations in Kansas City, live in Mission Hills, Kansas.

CHIEFS PRESIDENT / GM

CARL PETERSON
President/General Manager and Chief Operating Officer

When it comes to a proven record of success in professional football, no one has staked a better reputation than Carl Peterson. The highly respected football executive has put together a prominent list of accomplishments in both the NFL and USFL, and now he is ushering in a new era for the Kansas City Chiefs as President/General Manager and Chief Operating Officer.

Peterson became the leader of the Chiefs entire operation on December 19, 1988 after Jack Steadman resigned and became Chairman of the Board for all of Chiefs owner Lamar Hunt's Kansas City enterprises. Hunt's search quickly focused on Peterson, whose star had risen rapidly after helping spearhead the rise of the Philadelphia Eagles in the late 1970's and early '80's and then building the most successful team in USFL history.

Described by Hunt as "a football man with a broad base of experience on all levels," Peterson has been a winner throughout his entire football career as a coach, player personnel director and president. In fact, his last seven seasons all ended with a trip to the playoffs: three as the chief operating officer of the USFL's Stars and four as the Eagles Director of Player Personnel.

Peterson's reputation as one of football's top executives began in 1977 when, after one year on Dick Vermeil's coaching staff in Philadelphia, Peterson became the Eagles Director of Player Personnel. As the man chiefly responsible for the acquisition of talent, he helped take a team which hadn't had a winning season in 12 years and mold it into a playoff participant his final four seasons. The highlight of those four years was in 1980, when the Eagles won the NFC Eastern Division with a 12-4 record and beat Minnesota and Dallas for the NFC title and a berth in Super Bowl XV.

Peterson played no small role in the Eagles leap into the NFL's upper echelon. Combining his acquisition of talent with Dick Vermeil's coaching ability, the Eagles enjoyed their most successful four-year period ever. In Peterson's second year in charge of personnel, the Eagles notched a 9-7 record, their first winning mark since 1966 and good enough for second place in the NFC East and a Wild Card berth. In his third season, the Eagles tied the Dallas Cowboys for the NFC East title with an 11-5 record and earned another Wild Card berth. In 1980 the Eagles enjoyed their best season in recent history with a 12-4 mark, then after beating the Vikings in the first-round playoff game, defeated the Cowboys, 20-7, for the NFC Championship, the first such title for Philadelphia since 1960. That earned the team a spot opposite the Oakland Raiders in Super Bowl XV, which the Eagles lost, 27-10. In 1981, his last year before moving to the USFL, the Eagles went 10-6 and gained another Wild Card playoff bid.

After his quick success with the Eagles, Peterson was the man selected as President and General Manager to build the Philadelphia Stars when the USFL began its operation in 1982. Peterson proceeded to put together the most successful team in the league's three-year existence, playing in all three championship games and winning the final two. His team's record of 41-12-1 in regular season action and 7-1 in postseason play was easily the best of any USFL team.

Upon becoming the top man in the Stars operation in July of '82, Peterson hired Jim Mora as head coach. Mora, in his first professional head coaching assignment, went on to Coach-of-the-Year honors in the USFL and has subsequently become the head coach of the New Orleans Saints, where he also earned Coach-of-the-Year awards in 1987.

In the USFL's inaugural season in 1983, the Stars produced a league-best 15-3 record to win the Atlantic Division, then beat Chicago for the Eastern Conference championship before falling to Michigan, 24-22, in the first USFL title game. In '84, the Stars again posted the league's best record at 16-2, then whipped New Jersey and Birmingham in the playoffs before claiming the league crown with a 23-3 victory over Arizona. In '85, which became the league's last season of operation, Peterson's Stars moved to Baltimore and continued their unmatched success. Despite a 10-7-1 regular season mark, the Stars earned another playoff berth and peaked during their postseason march, again beating Birmingham and New Jersey for the right to play in the final USFL championship game, which they captured by defeating Oakland.

Peterson was named "USFL Executive of the Year" in 1983 and '84 by The Sporting News in balloting of his peers, the league's executives.

Peterson has shown a knack for discovering and developing young players. With the Eagles, he found Pro Bowler Wilbert Montgomery in the sixth round, claimed Jerry Robinson ('79 NFL Rookie of the Year) with the 21st pick of the first round, and stole five-time Pro Bowl receiver Mike Quick with the 20th pick in round one. Several of Peterson's acquisitions with the Stars have gone on to become starters in the NFL. They include Chiefs tackle Irv Eatman, Giants center Bart Oates, Redskins running back Kelvin Bryant, Saints linebacker Sam Mills, Browns linebacker Mike Johnson, and Giants punter Sean Landeta.

After his tenure in the USFL, Peterson entered private business and served as chief executive officer of PhillySport magazine in Philadelphia in 1988 and served in that capacity until joining the Chiefs.

A 1966 graduate of UCLA, Peterson began his coaching career as an assistant at two California high schools, Wilson High in 1966 and Loyola High in 1967-68. He entered the college ranks as an assistant at Cal-State at Sonoma in 1969, then was named head coach in '70. He spent two years there before returning to his alma mater in 1972. He served as receivers coach at UCLA under Pepper Rodgers for two years, then remained on the staff as receivers coach and administrative assistant when Vermeil became head coach in 1974. Peterson was with Vermeil two years at UCLA, which was highlighted by a 1976 Rose Bowl victory over No. 1-ranked Ohio State, before the two made their move to the NFL.

Peterson has served on the National Boards for the Maxwell Football Club and the Pop Warner Little Scholar Organization. He is also a member of the Young President's Organization in Philadelphia and is now with the Kansas City chapter.

The 45-year-old Peterson grew up in Long Beach, Calif., and attended both West Point and UCLA. He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology from UCLA in 1966, a Master's Degree in Kinesiology in '67 and later received a doctorate in Administration in Higher Education in 1970.

Carl, and his wife, Belinda, have one daughter, Dawn, age 20, who currently is attending UCLA, and reside in Kansas City, Missouri.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT CARL PETERSON

"In our search for a new leader one person stood out. Carl has a broad base of experience and knowledge. Most significantly from an experience level, he took part in a start-from-scratch situation as a club president with the Philadelphia Stars of the USFL."

– Lamar Hunt, Chiefs Owner

"Carl did it with the Stars. He helped do it before in the NFL when he was at Philadelphia. There's no reason he can't do it again in Kansas City."

– Jim Mora, Saints Head Coach

"He's not a guy who says a linebacker has to be a certain height and weight. He never goes strictly by the physical numbers. But he was a big guy on numbers, like what did the player produce. He always wanted to know if the guy could line up and play."

– Bill Kuharich, Saints Player Personnel Chief

CHIEFS HEAD COACH

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER

Only one man in the American Football Conference has led his team into the playoffs each of the past four years. And only one man has won three divisional titles in the AFC during that span. His name is Marty Schottenheimer, and after quick and dramatic success with the Cleveland Browns, the respected 45-year-old mastermind is out to accomplish similar feats as head coach of the Kansas City Chiefs.

Calling Schottenheimer's availability "both timely and fortunate for the Kansas City Chiefs," Carl Peterson, five weeks after becoming the team's President/General Manager and Chief Operating Officer, named the man who had become the AFC's winningiest coach over the past three years as the seventh head coach in the Chiefs 29-year history. Schottenheimer, who accepted the position on January 24, is the first head coach in franchise history to join the club with previous NFL head coaching experience.

Schottenheimer's immediate rise to stardom as a head coach has distinguished him as one of the quickest success stories in NFL history. In his four full seasons with the Browns, he produced four playoff berths, three AFC Central titles, two AFC Championship Game appearances and consensus AFC Coach of the Year honors in 1986. He became one of just four head coaches in NFL history to lead a team into the playoffs in each of his first four years.

Taking over the Browns head coaching job midway through the 1984 season, Schottenheimer's .620 winning percentage (44-27) ranks sixth among active coaches in the NFL, and his 32-15 record over the past three years is tops in the AFC, trailing only Mike Ditka (37-10) and Bill Walsh (33-13-1) in the entire NFL.

Schottenheimer embarked upon his first head coaching job at any level at midseason in '84 when he was elevated from Cleveland's defensive coordinator to head coach, replacing Sam Rutigliano. Schottenheimer took over a 1-7 team, but managed to inspire the Browns to a 4-4 finish in the season's second half, which included three losses by field goals late in the fourth quarter.

In 1985, his first full season as the Browns head coach, he directed the team to the AFC Central crown and an 8-8 finish. In the playoffs at Miami, his Browns battled a heavily-favored Dolphin team before falling, 24-21.

The following year, 1986, Schottenheimer earned AFC Coach of the Year honors from many sources, including Kansas City's Committee of 101, after he directed Cleveland to a 12-4 regular season record, a second straight AFC Central crown and a spot in the AFC Championship Game. Including their 23-20, double-overtime playoff victory over the New York Jets, the Browns 13 wins were the most in franchise history.

Schottenheimer's Browns gained a third consecutive AFC Central title in 1987 with a 10-5 record. Cleveland then advanced to the AFC Championship Game for the second straight year after posting a 38-21 triumph over the Indianapolis Colts in the playoffs, but fell again to Denver, 38-33, just one game shy of the Super Bowl.

Last season, despite losing three quarterbacks due to injury during the campaign, Schottenheimer led the Browns to a 10-6 mark and a second-place AFC Central finish behind the eventual conference champion Cincinnati Bengals. They missed a chance to become the first team since the Pittsburgh Steelers in the mid-70's to make three consecutive championship game appearances when they fell to the Houston Oilers, 24-23, in the Wild Card playoff game.

Schottenheimer joined the Browns as defensive coordinator in 1980. He developed the Cleveland defense over the next five years, highlighted by ranking first in the AFC and second to Chicago in the NFL in '84, when he became head coach at midseason.

A six-year player in the NFL as a linebacker, Schottenheimer started his coaching career with the WFL's Portland Storm in 1974. He began that year as a player, but a shoulder injury soon ended his playing career, although he continued tutoring the team's linebackers. A year later, in 1975, he joined Bill Arnsparger with the New York Giants as linebackers coach, then was promoted to defensive coordinator in 1977 at the age of 34. He moved to Detroit in 1978 to become the linebackers coach of the Lions, where he stayed two years before joining the Browns in '80.

An All-America linebacker at Pittsburgh, where he was recently named to Pitt's all-time team, Schottenheimer was drafted in the fourth round by the NFL's Baltimore Colts while the AFL's Buffalo Bills selected him in the seventh round. He played with the Bills from 1965-68, the Boston Patriots in 1969-70 and then was traded to the Steelers in 1971. After a training camp stint under Chuck Noll, Schottenheimer was traded to the Colts, but retired three weeks later when Baltimore released him.

Schottenheimer, who now serves on the NFL's prestigious Competition Committee, was an honor student and a football/basketball standout at Ft. Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa. He was an All-Western Pennsylvania linebacker and the center on the state championship basketball team. He then began his collegiate career at Pitt, where he was a three-year starter.

A native of McDonald, Pa., Schottenheimer and his wife, Pat, have two children, an 19-year-old daughter, Kristen, who will be a sophomore at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and a 15-year-old son, Brian. The Schottenheimers reside in Overland Park, Kansas.

CHIEFS COACHING STAFF

BRUCE ARIANS, Running Backs

After a distinguished college coaching career, Bruce Arians begins his first season as an NFL assistant coach. Arians will oversee a young, but talented, group of running backs, including a pair of his former pupils: Paul Palmer and Todd McNair.

Arians spent the last six seasons as head coach of Temple University, where he led his team to a 27-39 record. The 36-year-old native of York, Pennsylvania, coached Temple to a 4-7 record during his first season as a head coach in '83. The following campaign, he guided the Owls to a 6-5 mark, the school's first winning season in five years. His teams finished with a 4-7 mark in '85, '87 and '88 and a 6-5 record in '86.

At Temple, Arians coached several Chiefs players, including running back Paul Palmer, the NCAA's leading rusher in '86, cornerback Kevin Ross, running back Todd McNair and wide receiver Willie Marshall. Palmer finished his collegiate career as the NCAA's sixth all-time leading rusher with 4,895 yards. Palmer and Pittsburgh Steelers guard John Rienstra both blossomed under Arians guidance and became the first two NFL first-round draft picks in Temple history.

Before accepting the head coach position at Temple, Arians coached the offensive backfield at the University of Alabama for two years ('81-82) under the late Paul "Bear" Bryant. In '78-80, he tutored the receivers and running backs at Mississippi State. He coached the offensive backfield at Virginia Tech, his alma mater, in '77 after spending two years there as a graduate assistant. Arians played quarterback at Virginia Tech and was his team's leading passer in '74.

Born October 3, 1952, Bruce and his wife, Christine, a graduate of Temple Law School, have two children, Jake and Kristi, and reside in Lee's Summit, Missouri.

Arian's Coaching Career: Virginia Tech 1975-1977; Mississippi State Univeristy 1978-80; University of Alabama 1981-82; Temple University 1983-88 (head coach).

RUSS BALL, Assistant Strength and Conditioning

Beginning his first season as a strength and conditioning specialist in the NFL, Russ Ball will assist Dave Redding in the physical development and maturity of the club's athletes.

Ball had been the weight coach at the University of Missouri since '82, when he replaced Redding, who left the Tigers to join the Cleveland Browns. Ball was Missouri's assistant weight coach the two previous years.

The 29-year-old Moberly, Missouri, native earned four letters as a center at Central Missouri State University. He was an all-conference selection as a senior in '80. Ball was an all-state performer at Hickman Hills High School in Columbia, Missouri.

Born August 28, 1959, Russ and his wife, Chele, live in Kansas City, Missouri.

Ball's Coaching Career: University of Missouri 1981-88.

BILL COWHER, Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers

Bill Cowher, one of the brightest young coaches in the NFL, begins his first season with the Chiefs as the club's defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. Cowher, who spent the last four seasons as an assistant under Marty Schottenheimer in Cleveland, will be given the defensive coordinator duties for the first time in his coaching career.

"Bill brings great enthusiasm and energy to our coaching staff," said Schottenheimer. "He is largely responsible for the outstanding performance of a fine Cleveland secondary over the past two seasons."

Cowher spent the '85-86 seasons as the Browns special teams coach and coached the club's secondary the past two seasons. In Cleveland, he oversaw All-Pro cornerbacks Hanford Dixon and Frank Minnifield, the foundation of one of the league's finest secondaries. Cleveland's 23 interceptions in '87 tied for third in the AFC, while in '88 the Browns pass defense ranked fourth in the conference.

Impressed by Cowher's work ethic as a Browns linebacker in '80-82, Schottenheimer hired him in '85 after a knee injury forced the end of his playing career. Cowher was traded by Cleveland to the Philadelphia Eagles in '83, where he excelled on special teams. He was named the Eagles most valuable special teams player in his first season with the club, but a knee injury sidelined him for all but four games in '84. He originally entered the league as a free agent with the Eagles in '79, but was released after appearing in three preseason games. The Browns signed him as a free agent in '80 and he played in all 16 games, including two as a starter at inside linebacker.

Cowher was a four-year letterman and three-year starter at North Carolina State. He was named team captain as a senior and was also named the team's most valuable player. Cowher graduated from North Carolina State with a degree in physical education.

Born May 8, 1957 in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Bill and his wife, Kaye, reside in Leawood, Kansas, with their two daughters, Meagan Lyn and Lauren Marie.

Cowher's Coaching Career: Cleveland Browns 1985-1988.

TONY DUNGY, Defensive Backs

Tony Dungy, a defensive coordinator with the Pittsburgh Steelers the past six seasons, begins his initial season as the defensive backs coach of the Chiefs. After playing safety in the NFL for three years, Dungy embarked on a professional coaching career in '81.

Dungy spent the last eight years with the Steelers under Chuck Noll, the fifth-winningest coach in the history of the NFL. The 33-year-old native of Jackson, Michigan, joined Noll's staff in '81 as a defensive assistant and became the club's secondary coach the following year. He was promoted to defensive coordinator in '83, even though he was just 28 years old.

Under Dungy's tutiledge, the Steelers defense ranked among the NFL's top 10 units from '83-85. During his six seasons as Pittsburgh's defensive coordinator, the Steelers scored 20 defensive touchdowns, including 17 on interception returns.

Dungy's three-year NFL playing career began in '77 when he made the Steelers roster as a free agent safety. In '78 he led the club with six interceptions, but was traded to the San Francisco 49ers the following year. His career came to an end prior to the '80 season after he was traded by the 49ers to the New York Giants, who waived him during the preseason. Dungy's first coaching assignment came with the University of Minnesota in '80 when he was the school's defensive backs coach.

As a collegiate quarterback at Minnesota from '73-76, Dungy was named the team's most valuable player twice. Upon the completion of his career, he held school records for total plays (999), pass attempts (586), completions (274), passing yards (3,577) and touchdown passes (25). Dungy's coach at Minnesota was Steelers offensive coordinator Tom Moore, and in '76 his backup was Cleveland Browns quarterback coach Marc Trestman. Following the '76 season, he played in the East-West Shrine game, the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl. He graduated from Minnesota in '77 with a degree in business administration.

Born October 6, 1955, Tony and his wife, Lauren, have a daughter, Tiara, and a son, Jamie, and live in Overland Park, Kansas.

Dungy's Coaching Career: University of Minnesota 1980; Pittsburgh Steelers 1981-88.

JIM ERKENBECK, Special Assistant/Offense

Entering his 30th year of football coaching, Jim Erkenbeck will assist Howard Mudd, who he worked with at the University of California in the early '70's, in the guidance of the Chiefs offensive line. Erkenbeck, who began his coaching career in '60, joins the Chiefs after two seasons as offensive line coach of the Dallas Cowboys.

Erkenbeck worked with the Cowboys offensive line from '87 and '88 after overseeing the New Orleans Saints offensive front in '86. He helped revive the Saints offensive line that allowed 58 sacks in '85. Under Erkenbeck's watchful eye, the Saints permitted just 27 quarterback takedowns in '86.

Prior to joining the Saints, Erkenbeck coached the offensive line of the USFL's two-time champion Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars for three seasons ('83-85). There he worked under Chiefs President/General Manager Carl Peterson, who held the same post in Philadelphia, and Kansas City offensive coordinator Joe Pendry, who was the Stars offensive boss in '83. One of Erkenbeck's pupils in Philadelphia, Irv Eatman, was the Chiefs starting right tackle last season.

From '72-76, Erkenbeck was the offensive line coach at the University of California. After leaving California, he began his pro coaching career in the Canadian Football League. He was offensive coordinator at Winnipeg in '77 and continued in that capacity with Montreal ('78-81) and Calgary ('82).

Erkenbeck started his college coaching career in '60 at San Diego State, where he stayed until '63. Following that he served assistantships at Grossmont (Cal.) Junior College ('64-67), Utah State ('68) and Washington State ('69-71).

Following a college playing career at San Diego State ('49-52), where he earned three letters as a fullback, Erkenbeck spent four years in the Marine Corps. He started his coaching career at El Capatian High School in San Diego.

Born September 10, 1931 in Los Angeles, Jim and his wife, Jocelyne, reside in Mission, Kansas.

Erkenbeck's Coaching Career: San Diego State University 1960-63; Grossmont, Cal. J.C. 1964-67; Utah State University 1968; Washington State University 1969-71; University of California 1972-76; Winnipeg Blue Bombers (CFL) 1977; Montreal Alouettes (CFL) 1978-81; Calgary Stampeders (CFL) 1982; Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars (USFL) 1983-85; New Orleans Saints 1986; Dallas Cowboys 1987-88.

HOWARD MUDD, Offensive Line

The man responsible for molding the budding Chiefs offensive line will be 18-year coaching veteran Howard Mudd. Mudd, who spent the last six seasons as the Browns offensive line coach, enters his 16th year of coaching on the professional level.

The 47-year-old Midland, Michigan, native began his college coaching career in '72 as an assistant at the University of California, where he worked with fellow Chiefs assistant Jim Erkenbeck. Two years later, he moved into the professional ranks as the San Diego Chargers offensive line coach. Following a three-year stint in San Diego, he tutored the offensive lines with the San Francisco 49ers in '77 and the Seattle Seahawks from '78-82.

In 1983 Mudd moved to Cleveland and coached the offensive line there until joining the Chiefs this year. The Browns offensive line played a major part in the club's four straight playoff appearances. In '87, the Browns allowed just 29 sacks, the fourth-lowest total in the AFC. In addition, the club averaged 116.3 yards rushing during the regular season and 151.1 yards per game during the playoffs. In '85, Mudd's offensive line paved the way for two 1,000-yard rushers — Kevin Mack and Earnest Byner.

Mudd was a two-time All-Pro and three-time Pro Bowl performer during his eight NFL seasons as a standout guard. He spent six seasons with the 49ers ('64-69) and two with the Chicago Bears ('70-71). He was selected by San Francisco in the ninth round of the '64 draft after a standout college career at Hillsdale (Mich.) College. He is enshrined in the NAIA Hall of Fame and was also named to the All-1960's NFL team. Mudd graduated from Hillsdale with a bachelor of science degree in biology.

Born February 10, 1942, Howard and his wife, Marie, have a son, Darren, 19 (who is a junior lineman at Marshall Univeristy), and a daughter, Ami, 17. They reside in Blue Springs, Missouri.

Mudd's Coaching Career: University of California 1972-73; San Diego Chargers 1974-76; San Francisco 49ers 1977, Seattle Seahawks 1978-82; Cleveland Browns 1983-88.

JOE PENDRY, Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Beginning his 21st year of coaching, Joe Pendry will be responsible for the direction of the Chiefs offense in '89. Pendry has coached every offensive position, been an offensive coordinator and a head coach during his coaching career. In addition to his offensive coordinator role, he will also work with the Chiefs quarterbacks.

"Joe has an extensive offensive background working with quarterbacks, including Bernie Kosar, Dan Marino and Chuck Fusina," head coach Marty Schottenheimer said. "His teaching experience also includes working with offensive linemen, running backs and wide receivers. His responsibilities with the Chiefs will also include offensive play-calling."

A 42-year-old native of Matheny, West Virginia, Pendry played a major part in the success of the Browns offense the previous four years. He joined the Browns in '85 and served in several capacities with the team, including offensive coordinator for a year and running backs coach for three years. Under Pendry's guidance in '85, Kevin Mack and Earnest Byner became just the third running back duo in league history to rush for over 1,000 yards in the same season.

Pendry's first professional coaching experience came with the USFL's Philadelphia Stars, serving as the club's offensive coordinator during the team's '83 championship season. Chiefs President/General Manager Carl Peterson was in charge of the the Stars operation at the time and fellow

Kansas City assistant Jim Erkenbeck was the team's offensive line coach. Pendry was named head coach of the USFL's Pittsburgh Maulers for 10 games in '84.

Before entering the pro ranks, Pendry spent 15 years as a college assistant coach. A spinal injury during his sophomore year at West Virginia University ended his playing career, but afforded him the opportunity to start his coaching career. He was a student/coach his final two undergraduate years at West Virginia, then was appointed graduate assistant in '69 before becoming head coach of the freshman squad in '70. He coached the Mountaineers receivers and offensive line from '71-74.

After a year at Kansas State as offensive coordinator, Pendry returned to West Virginia in the same capacity from '76-77. He handled the University of Pittsburgh's quarterbacks in '78 and offensive line in '79 before taking over as Michigan State's offensive coordinator during the '80 and '81 seasons.

Born August 5, 1947, Joe and his wife, Sandi, have a son, Joe (19) and a daughter, Jill (17) and reside in Lee's Summit, Missouri.

TOM PRATT, Defensive Line

Tom Pratt, who spent 15 years as a Chiefs assistant coach in the '60's and '70's, returns to Kansas City with 26 years of NFL coaching experience. Pratt will oversee the Chiefs defensive line for the second time in his career. After his initial stint with the Chiefs ('63-77), Pratt made stops at New Orleans ('78-80) and Cleveland ('81-88).

Under Pratt's tutiledge the Browns defensive front played a vital role in the Browns four consecutive playoff visits. Pratt's unit helped the Browns achieve the sixth-rated defense in the NFL last year, while in '87 Cleveland allowed the AFC's fewest rushing yards and permitted the league's fewest touchdowns.

The 54-year-old Edgerton, Wisconsin, native got his first pro coaching experience with the Chiefs when he joined Hank Stram's staff in '63. During his stay in Kansas City, the Chiefs made two Super Bowl appearances following the '66 and '69 seasons, and earned an NFL Championship ring when the Chiefs won Super Bowl IV. One of his finest coaching accomplishments was the formation of tackles Buck Buchanan and Curley Culp with ends Jerry Mays and Aaron Brown that led the Chiefs to their only NFL title.

After playing linebacker at the University of Miami from '53-56, Pratt stayed at his alma mater as a Hurricane assistant for three years. He coached at the University of Southern Mississippi from '61-62 before joining Stram's staff in Kansas City.

Born June 21, 1935, Tom and his wife, Hope, live in Leawood, Kansas and have three children, Kendra (26), Shana (23) and Tyler (17).

Pratt's Coaching Career: University of Miami 1957-59; University of Southern Mississippi 1960-62; Kansas City Chiefs 1963-77; New Orleans Saints 1978-80; Cleveland Browns 1981-88.

DAVE REDDING, Strength and Conditioning

The one assistant coach Chiefs players are most familiar with as they enter the '89 season is Dave Redding, the club's strength and conditioning coach. Redding played a major part in the team's off-season workout program that attracted over 60 players a day. Redding installed a totally revamped weight room and instilled a new outlook on conditioning since joining the club in February of '89.

"Dave Redding, in my opinion, is the very best in the field," said head coach Marty Schottenheimer. "He's a tough and demanding coach who sets high standards. Dave works very closely with the players and produces great results."

Redding became the Browns first strength and conditioning coach in '82 and stayed in that capacity until joining the Chiefs this year. A 37-year-old native of North Platte, Nebraska, Redding instituted a highly-successful program with the Browns that included weightlifting, but also put an emphasis on flexibility, running, plyometric drills and speed enhancement — all of which he has stressed to Chiefs players during the offseason.

Before working with professional athletes, Redding spent six years as a collegiate strength coach. He spent one year at the University of Nebraska ('76), his alma mater, one at Washington State University ('77) and four at the University of Missouri ('78-81). He worked with the defensive ends in addition to his strength duties at Washington State.

Redding was a three-year letter winner at Nebraska, where he played defensive end. Upon completion of his bachelor of science degree in physical education, he worked as a graduate assistant at Nebraska in '76.

Born June 14, 1952, Dave and his wife, Jane, live in Lee's Summit, Missouri, with their daughter Taylor Reta (2).

Redding's Coaching Career: University of Nebraska 1976; Washington State University 1977; University of Missouri 1978-81; Cleveland Browns 1982-88.

AL SAUNDERS, Receivers

During Al Saunders' six seasons with the San Diego Chargers, he aided the development of some of the league's most productive receivers, including Charlie Joiner, Kellen Winslow, Wes Chandler and Pete Holohan. In '89 he will oversee the Chiefs receiving unit, which includes two of the club's best ever — Carlos Carson and Stephone Paige.

Saunders served as head coach of the Chargers for the past two seasons after taking over the post midway through the '86 season. He guided the club to a 17-22 record, including an 8-7 record in '87, which was the team's first winning mark in five years. Under his direction in '87, the Chargers won eight straight games, the club's longest winning streak in 26 seasons.

The 42-year-old Saunders joined the Chargers in '83 as receivers coach, tutoring three of the club's top five all-time receivers — Joiner, Winslow and Chandler. He was named assistant head coach in '85 before replacing Don Coryell as head coach in October of '86.

Saunders entered the NFL after 13 years as a successful college assistant coach, helping six players achieve All-America status: Lynn Swann, Wesley Walker, Henry Marshall, Willie Gault, Tim McGee and Louie Giammona. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Southern California in '70-71. He then coached the receivers at the University of Missouri in '72 and was the offensive backfield coach at Utah State from '73-75. He was assistant head coach and offensive coordinator at the University of California from '76-81, leading an offense that set 32 national, conference and school records. In '82 he was offensive coordinator at the University of Tennessee, where he coached standout receivers Gault and McGee.

Saunders was born in London, England, which made him only the third foreign-born head coach in NFL history. He became a naturalized U.S. citizen in '60. He was a four-year starter, team captain and an Academic All-America as a defensive back at San Jose State ('66-69) and is also enshrined in the school's Hall of Fame. He graduated with honors as a physical education and English major in '69 and obtained a master's degree in education from Stanford in '70. He was a doctorial candidate in athletic administration and sports management at USC.

Born February 1, 1947, Al and his wife, Karen, reside in Leawood, Kansas, with their two sons, Bobby (12) and Joey (10) and daughter Korrin (8).

Saunders' Coaching Career: University of Southern California 1970-71; University of Missouri 1972; Utah State University 1973-75; University of California 1976-81; University of Tennessee 1982; San Diego Chargers 1983-88 (head coach 1986-88).

KURT SCHOTTENHEIMER, Special Teams

A veteran of 12 years of coaching, Kurt Schottenheimer will oversee the Chiefs special teams units in '89. Schottenheimer, the younger brother of Chiefs head coach Marty Schottenheimer, begins his third season as an NFL assistant after spending his first two with the Browns as the club's special teams coach.

Last season Schottenheimer's kickoff coverage unit ranked second in the NFL with a 16.2-yard average while the Browns kickoff return unit placed sixth in the league with a 21.1-yard average. The Chiefs need to make a drastic improvement in each area after finished last in the NFL in both kickoff coverage and returns last season. In '88 the Browns also blocked two punts, both for touchdowns, and one field goal. In '87 opponents returned just 17 punts, by far the lowest number in the league.

A 39-year-old native of McDonald, Pennsylvania, Schottenheimer entered the pro ranks after putting together an impressive major college coaching resume. He served as Lou Holtz's linebackers coach at the University of Notre Dame in '86. Prior to that appointment, he spent two seasons ('84-85) as linebackers coach at Louisiana State University under defensive genius Bill Arnsparger.

Schottenheimer started his coaching career from '74-75 as the defensive coordinator at William Patterson State College in New Jersey. He spent the '77 season at Ridgefield Park (N.J.) High School, and the following five seasons ('78-82) at Michigan State University, the first two as a graduate assistant coaching defensive backs under Darryl Rogers. He coached the Spartans outside linebackers his last three years, with All-America pick Carl Banks, among his pupils. He coached at Tulane University in '83.

Scottenheimer was a J.C. All-America quarterback at Coffeyville (Kan.) Junior College, where he led the nation in passing as a sophomore. He moved on to the University of Miami, where he started his last two years as a defensive back and earned his bachelor's degree in education in '71.

Born October 1, 1950, Kurt and his wife Colleen, have two daughters, Steele (6) and Sloane (3), and live in Overland Park, Kansas.

Schottenheimer's Coaching Career: William Patterson State College 1974-75; Michigan State University 1978-82; Tulane University 1983; Louisiana State University 1984-85; University of Notre Dame 1986; Cleveland Browns 1987-88.

DARVIN WALLIS, Special Assistant/Quality Control

Darvin Wallis, an 18-year coaching veteran, will be responsible for the team's game analysis, including film breakdown, computer data, self-scouting and the analysis of opponents' offenses. Wallis is also responsible for defensive quality control and developmental studies and research. He joins the Chiefs after spending seven years in the same capacity with the Browns organization.

"Darvin is a fine, young coach and a tireless worker who will watch more video than anyone in the organization," said head coach Marty Schottenheimer. "He is responsible for all phases of quality control and computer data."

The 40-year-old Ft. Branch, Indiana, native joined the Browns in '82 after tutoring the tight ends and tackles at the University of Mississippi for two seasons ('80-81). During his two seasons there he was also heavily involved in the school's computer scouting system. Wallis was the offensive line and strength coach at Tulane University from '78-79 and oversaw the offensive front at Adams State College in Alamosa, Colorado, from '76-77.

After graduating from the University of Arizona, where he played defensive end, Wallis earned his master's degree at Adams State. He entered the coaching world in '71 at Wilcox (Ariz.) High School, then served as head coach at Ajo (Ariz.) High School from '72-75.

Born February 14, 1949, Darvin and his wife, Vicky, reside in Overland Park, Kansas, with their three children, Darvin, Jr. (6), Tyson (3) and Austin (1).

Wallis' Coaching Background: Adams State College 1976-77; Tulane University 1978; University of Mississippi 1980-81; Cleveland Browns 1982-88.

PLAYER PERSONNEL STAFF

WHITEY DOVELL, Player Personnel Director

After one season as the Chiefs pro personnel director, Whitey Dovell is now in his second season as the player personnel chief. Dovell, who takes a hands-on approach to scouting, has been instrumental in the team's '88 and '89 drafts. Dovell will also cover the Big 10 for the Chiefs in 1989.

Dovell, who joined the Chiefs in 1987, has either coached or scouted on the professional level the past 22 years. His lengthy coaching resume spanned 32 years — 15 in the collegiate ranks and 17 in pro football. His first 14 years of pro service were in the NFL, primarily as an offensive coach, and his final three seasons as a pro assistant coach were in the USFL. He also worked with the scouting operations during each of those years. He left coaching in 1984, spending two years in the New England Patriots pro and college scouting department before his arrival in Kansas City.

Dovell began his coaching career in 1952 as head freshman coach at Maryland, where he was an offensive and defensive lineman during his college playing career. He remained with the Terps for 15 years through the 1966 season. He served as offensive line coach, offensive coordinator or defensive coordinator for 11 years after his four-year stint as freshman coach.

He moved with Lou Saban to the Denver Broncos in 1967 as offensive line coach. After five seasons in Denver, Dovell held offensive coaching positions with the Chicago Bears (1972-74) and Baltimore Colts (1975-78) before returning to the Broncos for a two-year term in 1979-80. He then spent three years in the USFL with the Denver Gold and Chicago Blitz.

A native of Newark, New Jersey, he was born February 11, 1927. Dovell, who spent two years in the Navy, has both a bachelor's and master's degree in education from Maryland. He and his wife, Clare, have three children, Audrey, Lisa and Patricia.

BILL BAKER, Talent Scout

The newest addition to the Chiefs player personnel staff is Bill Baker, who has been a football coach or scout since 1955. Baker begins his first season with the Chiefs and will be responsible for the southwest region of the country.

Baker was most recently a scout for the Philadelphia Eagles from '84-87. Prior to that, he was a scout for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers ('83) and player personnel director of the USFL's Arizona Wranglers ('82). He scouted for the Eagles previously from '75-81, serving under Chiefs President/General Manager Carl Peterson, who was Philadelphia's player personnel chief from '77-81.

The 61-year-old native of Knoxville, Tennessee, played college football at Tennessee ('47-49) and at Wyoming ('50-51) as a center and linebacker. From '55-61 he was head coach at Chadron (Neb.) State College, where he registed a 30-26-1 record. He then moved to Wyoming, where he was the offensive line and kicking coaching from '62-70. He performed those same duties at Arizona from '71-72.

Bill and his wife, Marjorie, reside in Tuscon, Arizona. They have one daughter, Vicky, and two sons, Bill, Jr., and Mike.

CHUCK COOK, Talent Scout

In his sixth year as a talent scout for the Chiefs, Chuck Cook joined the club's personnel department in 1984 after a four-year coaching career on both the college and professional level. His area of concentration as a Chiefs scout is the country's southeast region.

Cook came to Kansas City after serving two years as an offensive assistant with the Arizona Wrangers of the USFL. He began coaching in 1980 as a graduate assistant at the University of Wyoming.

A native of Andalusia, Alabama, Cook was a wide receiver and defensive back at Southern Mississippi. He graduated in 1980, and after several tryouts in the NFL as a player, began his coaching career later that year.

MARK HATLEY, Pro Personnel Scout

After coaching the Chiefs linebackers in 1987, Mark Hatley is in his second season as a scout with the club and will concentrate in the pro personnel area. He will also have limited responsibility with the Big Eight conference. Hatley joined the Chiefs after a two-year stint with the New Orleans Saints.

Hatley's first NFL experience was with the Saints in 1984-85, when his duties included scouting and defensive quality control. He moved into the pro ranks after 11 years as an assistant coach on the college level. The former Oklahoma State linebacker, following his graduation in 1972, coached three years at his alma mater. He then moved to Tulsa for one season in 1976 before spending six years at Texas Christian (1977-82). He joined the Baylor staff in 1983 for a year before landing his first NFL job with the Saints.

A 39-year-old native of Borger, Texas, Hatley and his wife, Claudia, have one daughter, Eliza.

FRED SCHUBACH, Talent Scout

A 22-year NFL scouting veteran, Fred Schubach begins his fourth season as a talent scout for the Chiefs. His responsibilities are primarily in the northeast region of the country where he resides.

Schubach spent 10 years as the player personnel director of the Baltimore Colts. He began his tenure as head of the Colts scouting operations in 1973, staying until the franchise moved to Indianapolis.

After his departure from the Colts, Schubach served as a talent scout for the Buffalo Bills from 1983-84. In 1985 he established his own scouting combine and worked the east coast region for the Chicago Bears and Los Angeles Raiders. He joined the Chiefs staff in 1986.

JERRY SMITH, Talent Scout

A 26-year NFL coaching veteran, Jerry Smith was the first addition to the Chiefs player personnel department after Whitey Dovell's appointment as director in '88. Smith, who was a part-time scout for the Chiefs in 1987, will handle the northwest region for the Chiefs.

Smith, whose pro coaching career began in 1960, spent 26 years with nine different teams and was most recently with the St. Louis Cardinals until the end of the 1986 season. He was primarily a defensive or offensive line coach throughout his pro coaching days, including a two-year stint as defensive coordinator of the New Orleans Saints in 1969-70. He began in the AFL with the Boston Patriots in 1960 and served assistantships with the Buffalo Bills, Saints, Denver Broncos, Houston Oilers, Cleveland Browns, Baltimore Colts, San Diego Chargers and Cardinals. He served as interim head coach for the final five games of the 1971 season with the Broncos.

The 58-year-old native of Dayton, Ohio, was an eighth-round draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers in 1952, and played with the club for three years. He was a defensive tackle from 1948-52 at Wisconsin. He and his wife, Shirley, have two sons and three daughters.

FOOTBALL STAFF

MIKE DAVIDSON
Equipment Manager

After serving as the Cleveland Browns Assistant Equipment Manager for five years, Mike Davidson is in his initial season as the Chiefs Equipment Manager. He will be responsible for the outfitting of the team's players and coaches as well as the purchasing and maintaining of the club's equipment.

The 33-year-old Davidson joined the Browns in '84 and assisted in the club's equipment purchasing, inventory, maintenance and travel arrangements. Has started 42 games at either guard or tackle since joining team midway through the '83 season . . . Has played in 78 games during that span, including all but two contests the last four years. 1988: Started 14 games at left guard, giving him 25 starts at the position the past two years . . . The 14 starts represent a career high . . . Missed two games (vs. Detroit, 10/23, and L.A. Raiders, 10/30) with a neck burner . . . Missed action broke a string of 51 consecutive games played . . . Played the remainder of the season with the painful ailment. 1987: Began season as back-up left guard but replaced an injured Brian Jozwiak in the first quarter of the season opener vs. San Diego (9/13), playing the remainder of that game . . . Started the remaining 11 non-strike games at left guard even though Jozwiak was healthy . . . Played in all 12 non-strike games despite a painful shoulder injury. 1986: Started eight games at right tackle during mid-season . . . Replaced injured David Lutz in the second quarter of the fifth week vs. L.A. Raiders (10/5), then started the next eight contests before Lutz returned . . . Alternated at times with Lutz the rest of the season . . . Played in all 16 games plus the Wild Card playoff game. 1985: Started games at both guard spots and saw considerable action early in the season at both tackle spots . . . Started the final five games of '85, the last three at left guard (due to Brad Budde and Scott Auer injuries) and the two prior to that at right guard (replaced Bob Olderman) . . . Played in all 16 games and was one of few offensive linemen to remain healthy all season. 1984: Versatility began to show in '84, his first full year with the Chiefs . . . Saw substantial action at both right tackle and right guard . . . Alternated with Jim Rourke at right tackle the first half of the season after Lutz was sidelined in the opener . . . Filled in some for starting right guard Tom Condon the second half of the season . . . Played in the first 14 games before missing the final two contests because of the mumps. 1983: Joined the Chiefs as a free agent at mid-season when Condon was put on IR . . . Quickly proved his worth to the team by starting the final four contests at left tackle when Herkenhoff was injured . . . Played in six of the eight games he was on the roster . . . Had been released by the New York Giants earlier in '83 after playing in two games. 1982: Was a 10th-round draft choice of the Giants in 1982 . . . Made squad as a rookie and played in one of the nine games during the strike-shortened season.

College/Personal: Won All-ACC honors as a senior at Wake Forest . . . Attended Massapequa High School in Long Island, N.Y., winning letters in football, basketball and track . . . Younger brother, Gary, was a defensive lineman with the Chiefs ('86-'88) and is now with the Atlanta Falcons, while older brother, Brian, played guard for the Dallas Cowboys ('82-'87) and has been with the Indianapolis Colts the last two years . . . Graduated from WFU with a history degree . . . Full name: Richard L. Baldinger . . . Single.

Has been a starter at defensive end for most of career, starting 92 of 101 career outings . . . Since joining Chiefs as a first-round pick in '79, he has collected 452 tackles (322 solos) and nine fumble recoveries to go along with the 50 sacks. 1988: Started 12 games at right defensive end, contributing 63 stops (39 solos), two sacks and a fumble recovery . . . Missed four games with a 30-day suspension from the NFL . . . Started the first seven weeks and last five . . . Recorded 50th sack of career vs. N.Y. Giants (12/11) . . . Two sacks was lowest total since being held without one in strike-shortened '82 season . . . Had five tackles, a sack and forced fumble at Seattle (9/11). 1987: Led Chiefs with 6½ sacks and finished season as the club's sixth-leading tackler with 56 stops . . . Started all 12 games at right defensive end and enjoyed a mid-season string of five straight games with a sack . . . Recorded eight tackles and 1½ sacks in loss to Bears (11/1) . . . Recovered a fumble against both the Chargers (10/25) and Steelers (11/8). 1986: Missed entire '86 season and final five games of '85 slate on a leave of absence from the team because of non-football-related matters. 1985: Started the first 11 games and was the team's top sacker until missing the final five contests . . . His six sacks were still good for second on the team (one behind Bill Maas), while his 23 QB pressures led the team . . . He recorded 49 tackles (33 solos) for the season . . . Made a season-high 11 tackles vs. Pittsburgh (11/10) and had two sacks at Houston (11/3). 1984: Enjoyed his best season as a pro, despite nagging knee injury the second half of the season . . . Was voted as an alternate to the AFC Pro Bowl team after recording a career-most 13½ sacks, the third-best total in Chiefs history behind Still's two 14½-sack seasons . . . All of his takedowns came in the first 12 games of the season . . . Ranked third in the NFL at that time, but finished in eighth place in the AFC and tied for 11th in the NFL . . . Saw very limited action in the final five games and was placed on injured reserve for the finale after undergoing arthroscopic surgery to repair cartilage damage in his right knee . . . Started 14 games while playing in 15 . . . Was named AFC Defensive-Player-of-the-Week for a three-sack effort vs. Cincinnati's Anthony Munoz in Week 2 . . . Totaled 62 tackles and led the team with two fumble recoveries. 1983: Had an outstanding season, starting all 16 games and leading club with 10 sacks . . . His 10 QB takedowns ranked seventh in the AFC . . . Was selected as the first alternate at DE for the AFC Pro Bowl team . . . Finished fifth on the team in tackles with 75 . . . Had a three-sack day vs. Bengals (11/13) and a season-high 11 tackles in OT win over Houston (10/23). 1982: Was injured throughout the strike-shortened season, missing three full games and parts of three others . . . Played in six contests, starting five, and finished with 27 tackles. 1981: Started all 16 games in one of his few totally healthy seasons . . . Was the team's third-leading tackler with 77 and second in sacks with five. 1980: Missed nearly the entire season as a sophomore after undergoing surgery to repair a bicep muscle in the shoulder area which he separated from the bone in the second game . . . Wasn't given an official year of NFL experience. 1979: Played in 11 games as a rookie, missing five at mid-season due to a strained knee . . . Broke into starting lineup for the final four games and finished with 35 tackles and 5½ sacks . . . Was the second overall pick in '79 draft.

College/Personal: Enjoyed a brilliant four-year career at Colorado State . . . Knee surgery following his senior year kept him from playing in any post-season all-star games . . . Was a first team All-America selection by The Sporting News and second team by AP and UPI . . . Unanimous All-Western Athletic Conference choice as a junior and senior . . . Racked up 36 career sacks at CSU . . . His twin brother, Mark, has played defensive end for several NFL clubs . . . LLOYD BURRUSS • 34
Safety Ht: 6-0 Wt: 205

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3c - 1981)
College: Maryland
NFL Experience: 9
Birthdate: October 31, 1957
Birthplace: Charlottesville, Virginia
Residence: Palmyra, Virginia

Pro Career: Has become one of the premier strong safeties in the NFL . . . Gained NFL recognition in '86 with his first Pro Bowl berth after already making believers out of his teammates, having won the team's Mack Lee Hill Award as a rookie in '81 and the team's MVP award in '85 . . . Has been the Chiefs starting strong safety since early in his rookie season, but has been somewhat overshadowed by having at least one of his defensive back teammates reach the Pro Bowl in each of his eight NFL seasons . . . Has made 19 career interceptions and is just four thefts shy of the Chiefs career top ten list . . . Has scored four touchdowns on interception returns, fourth-most in team history (behind Bobby Bell's six and Emmitt Thomas and Jim Kearney's five) . . . Owns the team record for most interception return yards (121) in a game . . . Is co-holder of NFL and team records for interceptions returned for a touchdown in a game with two (KC's Jim Kearney and 14 others share record) . . . Has recorded 537 career tackles (366 unassisted) and five fumble recoveries . . . Has played in 104 games with the Chiefs and has started 98 contests. 1988: Collected 76 tackles, second-most in career, and two interceptions despite missing six games with knee and shoulder injuries . . . Underwent arthroscopic surgery on left knee on October 18 . . . Injured knee vs. L.A. Raiders (10/16) and spent the next four weeks on inactive list . . . Missed Broncos game (9/18) with a left shoulder subluxation and sat out the season finale vs. San Diego (12/18) with a right shoulder strain . . . Enjoyed best game of season in opener vs. Cleveland (9/4) when he made 14 tackles (seven solos), blocked a field goal and had a quarterback hurry . . . On the hurry he knocked Bernie Kosar out of the game . . . Had another big game at N.Y. Jets (10/2), collecting 15 stops, including 10 solos, and intercepted a pass . . . Other interception came the following week at Houston (10/9). 1987: Was held without an interception for the first season in his career . . . Finished fifth on the club with 58 tackles (45 solos), which tied with Kevin Ross for most among the secondary . . . Started 11 games before being placed on injured reserve for season finale vs. Seattle (12/27) with a sprained left knee . . . Led team with season-high eight tackles against Green Bay (11/22) . . . Had at least one pass deflection five straight games in '87. 1986: Earned his first Pro Bowl berth after a spectacular campaign that ranks as one of the most intriguing performances by a defensive back in Chiefs history . . . Made a career-high five interceptions and returned three of those for touchdowns, one shy of the team and NFL record (KC's Jim Kearney had four in '72 and Houston's Ken Houston had four in '71) . . . Scored a fourth touchdown by returning a blocked field goal 78 yards in the regular season finale at Pittsburgh (12/21) that became the winning score in a playoff-clinching battle . . . Totaled a career-high 193 interception return yards, third-best seasonal total in team history . . . Enjoyed a once-in-a-lifetime game in first meeting vs. San Diego (10/19), intercepting three passes and returning two for touchdowns, sparking KC to a 42-41 triumph at Arrowhead . . . His two TD returns tied an NFL mark shared by 15 other players and his three interceptions were just one short of tying the team and NFL record held by 16 players . . . His 121 interception return yards vs. San Diego broke a 24-year-old Chiefs record (Bobby Ply, 108 yards vs. San Diego in '62) . . . Amazingly, all three thefts came in the second quarter off Dan Fouts: his returns went 12 yards, 44 yards for a TD and 56 yards for a TD . . . Also made a season-high 12 tackles in that contest and was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week . . . His fourth interception of the season also came against San Diego (11/2) . . . His fifth theft and third TD came vs. Denver (12/7), returning it 72 yards, a career long and the team's longest since '77 (Gary Barbaro's NFL-record 102-yard return) . . . Notched 76 total tackles for the season (49 unassisted), second most of his career . . . Started 13 games and played in 15, missing some early action due to a pulled hamstring . . . Was named to All-AFC first team by UPI and All-Pro honorable mention by AP. 1985: Teammates voted him the Chiefs MVP for '85, a result of respected leadership as much as his performance on the field . . . Made one interception, posted 70 tackles (49 solos) and recorded two sacks . . . His theft came in a one-point loss at Denver (12/14) in a nationally-televised game . . . Probably his best overall game was a Thursday night, national-TV victory over the Raiders (9/12), when he led the Chiefs with 10 tackles and forced a fumble . . . Started 14 games and played in 15 . . . A bruised thigh sustained in the fourth contest caused him to miss most of the next two weeks. 1984: Started all 16 games, finishing with a career-high 92 tackles (65 solos) and intercepting two passes . . . First theft led to a go-ahead touchdown in a 22-20 loss to the Raiders (9/16) and the second came the following week at Denver (9/23) . . . Top tackling effort came vs. N.Y. Giants (11/25), when he registered a career-high 13 stops. 1983: Intercepted four passes despite missing four games because of a pulled hamstring . . . The injury kept him from being totally healthy the final 10 games and he didn't play in the final three contests . . . Played in and started 12 games, but had a 29-game starting string snapped vs. Houston (10/23) . . . Made two interceptions in the final two minutes of the season-opening win over Seattle (9/4) . . . Was credited with 46 tackles (30 solos) and recovered two fumble recoveries (both at Miami, 9/25). 1982: Started all nine games, intercepting one pass and leading the squad with nine pass breakups . . . Recorded 50 tackles (35 solos), with a season-high 12 vs. the Rams (11/28) . . . Blocked a punt and a field goal on kicking teams. 1981: Was the Chiefs third pick of the third round in the '81 draft, coming on a choice obtained from the Rams in a '80 trade for Walter White . . . Appeared in all 16 contests as a rookie . . . Started the second game of the season, then broke into the lineup permanently the final 13 weeks . . . Finished with four interceptions and 69 tackles (52 solos) . . . Was voted winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award for his rookie achievements . . . Picked off two passes vs. New England (10/4) . . . Made the Chiefs only interception return for a touchdown that year, picking off a Jim Zorn pass and racing 46 yards in a win over Seattle (11/22) . . . Was occasionally used on kickoff returns, running back five for 91 yards, an 18.2 average.

College/Personal: Was a four-year starter at Maryland, totaling nine interceptions and 160 tackles during his career . . . Was a first team All-ACC selection and an honorable mention All-America choice by AP . . . Started four bowl games for Terps: Cotton, Hall of Fame, Sun and Tangerine . . . Attended Charlottesville (Va.) High School, where he was prep All-America in football and track . . . Is an avid hunter and fisherman . . . Farms in Virginia during the off-season . . . Graduated from Maryland with a general studies degree . . . Full name: Lloyd Earl Burruss, Jr. . . . Married, wife Pamela, three daughters, Jessica (6), Danielle (4) and Brittany (2).

Reception and yardage totals were the most for a Chiefs receiver since '84, even though he played in just 12 games because of the strike . . . Had four 100-yard outings in '87, including personal-highs of 197 yards and nine receptions at San Diego (10/25) . . . 197 yards were the third-most in Chiefs history . . . Scored a pair of TD's in that game and at Seattle (9/20), giving him four multiple-TD games in his career . . . Collected 117 yards at Chicago (11/1), 142 vs. Raiders (12/13) and 120 vs. Seattle (12/27) . . . Had a career-long 81-yard touchdown catch in a 41-20 win over Seattle in the season finale. 1986: Missed six full games and parts of three others with ankle and foot injuries, but still ranked fourth in receptions with 21 and fifth in yardage with 497 for a team-leading 23.7-yard average . . . First sustained the injury vs. the Raiders Week 5 and was in and out of lineup the rest of the season until finally going on injured reserve the final four weeks . . . Had a 70-yard TD reception at Seattle (9/14) which was a carrer-long before '87 . . . Didn't post any 100-yard games, but had three games over 90 yards . . . Played in 10 games and started seven. 1985: Led the team in receptions with 47 and finished second to Stephone Paige in yardage with 843, despite missing three games . . . Was off to the best start of his career until a minor knee injury in the third game limited his playing time for three weeks . . . Opened the campaign with an eight-reception, 173-yard, two-TD outing vs. Saints (9/8) which represented career-highs at the time . . . Against the Raiders four nights later (9/12) in a prime time victory, he grabbed five passes for 118 yards and a TD . . . Injury came the next week at Miami (9/22) and his 44-game catch streak was snapped . . . Streak of 46 straight starts was broken the following Sunday. 1984: Became the first player in Chiefs history to gain over 1,000 receiving yards in consecutive seasons . . . Led the team with 1,078 yards, which ranks fourth for a Chiefs single-season . . . Ranked seventh in the AFC and 11th in the NFL . . . Yardage came on 57 receptions, second to only to Henry Marshall's 62 . . . Gained 100 or more yards four times, third-most in team annals for a season . . . All came in the final 10 games: 7-165 vs. San Diego (10/14), 7-131 vs. Tampa Bay (10/28), 5-153 at Giants (11/25) and 7-126 vs. Denver (12/2) . . . Scored four touchdowns, three coming in the final four games . . . Started all 16 contests . . . Compiled more receiving yardage in '83-84 than any other AFC player (2,429). 1983: Established himself among the NFL's receiving elite, recording the most productive receiving season in Chiefs history and being voted a starter for the AFC Pro Bowl squad . . . Set Chiefs single-season records for receptions and receiving yardage: his 80 catches shattered a 21-year-old record of 68 receptions by Chris Burford in '62 and his 1,351 yards broke Taylor's '66 club mark of 1,297 yards . . . His 1,351 yards were most in the AFC, second-best in the NFL next to Mike Quick and the 13th-best performance in league history . . . His 80 receptions were fifth in the NFL and second among wide receivers, behind Tim Smith . . . Caught passes for over 100 yards in six games, tying Quick for most in the league and tying Taylor's '66 club record . . . His century-mark games: 7-104 vs. Seattle (9/4), 6-109 at Washington (9/18), 5-103 vs. Raiders (11/6), 7-135 at Dallas (11/20), 7-149 at Seattle (11/27) and 7-165 at San Diego (12/11) . . . Caught seven TD passes, the most by a Chiefs player in 13 years . . . Threw a 48-yard TD pass to Marshall in a Monday night game vs. San Diego (9/12) for a go-ahead score late in the game . . . Averaged five catches and 84.4 yards per game in '83. 1982: Entered starting lineup for the first time in his career, opening six of the nine games of the shortened season . . . Was the Chiefs second-leading receiver with 27 receptions for 494 yards, a team-leading 18.3 average, and two scores . . . The first 100-yard game of his career was three-catch, 110-yard, one-TD effort at Denver (12/19). 1981: Was off to a good start as a reserve before breaking his leg in the third game of season . . . Caught four passes for 101 yards in the first three games, including a 53-yard TD that helped the Chiefs upset the Steelers (9/6) in the opener . . . Missed the next 11 contests before returning for the final two contests . . . Returned 10 kickoffs for a 22.7-yard average. 1980: Served primarily as a kick return specialist and finished fifth in the AFC with a 22.9 average on 40 returns . . . The 40 returns was just one shy of the Chiefs record held by Noland Smith ('67) . . . His 917 yards on kickoff returns was second in Chiefs history behind Smith's '67 total of 1,148 yards . . . Also caught five passes for 68 yards as a rookie . . . Was the Chiefs fifth-round draft choice in '80 on a choice obtained from the Colts.

Pro Career: Regarded as one of the NFL's best defensive backs of the 1980's . . . Recognized as one of the most successful free agents in NFL history . . . Has taken part in the last six Pro Bowls, including five as a starter . . . His string of six straight Pro Bowl appearances is the second-longest by an NFL defensive back (Ken Houston made 10 consecutive appearances from '71-80) . . . Willie Lanier is the only other Chiefs player to play in six Pro Bowls . . . Entered the pro ranks as a free agent punter in '81, switched to the defensive backfield in training camp of that season, and has been the league's most prolific interceptor since gaining a starting job in '83 . . . Has picked off 40 passes during the last six years, more than any other player over that span . . . With 41 career thefts, he now ranks second on the AFC's active interception list, trailing only the Raiders Mike Haynes (46) . . . Incredibly has recorded at least seven interceptions and 100 tackles in five of the last six seasons (failed to in '87 strike-shortened season) . . . Ranks third in Chiefs history with 41 interceptions, behind Emmitt Thomas (58) and Johnny Robinson (57) . . . His 12 career fumble recoveries tie him with Art Still for fourth place in team history . . . Established a club record for takeaways (interceptions and fumble recoveries) in a season with 13 last season . . . Was selected to Chiefs 25-Year All-Time team in '87 . . . Has missed just four games in the last six seasons . . . Eight-year career totals are 108 games, 88 starts, 41 interceptions, 590 return yards, 690 tackles (439 solos), 12 fumble recoveries, 2.5 sacks and three touchdowns (two on blocked punt recoveries). 1988: Enjoyed the finest season of his illustrious career in '88 en route to sixth Pro Bowl and team MVP honors . . . Was first team All-NFL by AP, Pro Football Weekly and The Sporting News and first team All-AFC by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football News . . . Named AFC Defensive Back of the Year by NFLPA . . . Led Chiefs defense in nearly every defensive category: 151 tackles, seven interceptions, six fumble recoveries (setting a new Chiefs single-season record) and four forced fumbles . . . His seven pick-offs tied him with three others for second place in AFC and sixth place in NFL . . . His 13 takeaways established a new club record and led the NFL . . . Set a personal high with 151 tackles, the most by a Chief since Gary Spani had 153 in '81 . . . Had seven double digit tackle outings . . . Opened season vs. Cleveland (9/4) by contributing 16 tackles and an interception . . . Had sixth multi-interception game vs. Denver (9/18) when he picked off two John Elway tosses . . . The following week he led the team with 10 tackles and snagged one interception vs. Chargers (9/25) . . . Had 13 tackles (11 solos), two fumble recoveries and a forced fumble at N.Y. Jets (10/2) . . . Moved into third place on the club's interception list with his 40th career pick at L.A. Raiders (10/30); also added 11 stops . . . Closed the season by recording 14 tackles (nine solos) with a forced and recovered fumble at San Diego (12/18) . . . Was the only defensive player to start all 16 games . . . Broke old record of four fumble recoveries in a season with fifth steal vs. N.Y. Jets (12/4); finished season with six. 1987: Earned fifth straight Pro Bowl appearance and second straight start, despite missing the final four games of the season with a sprained left knee . . . Recorded three interceptions, his lowest total in five seasons as a starter . . . Tied for team interception lead (Kevin Ross also had three), giving him at least a share of the club's top spot in four of the past five seasons . . . Had two thefts in season opener vs. San Diego (9/13) for his fifth multiple-interception game . . . Also intercepted a pass vs. Pittsburgh (11/8) . . . Injured his knee in second quarter of Thanksgiving Day win over Detroit (11/26) and missed the season's final four games . . . Registered 49 tackles (35 solos), forced a fumble and recovered a fumble in his eight starts . . . Named to All-AFC second team by UPI. 1986: Won the AFC interception title with a career-high nine, just one short of NFL-leader Ronnie Lott . . . In addition to his interception crown, he finished second on the team with 108 total tackles (74 solos) and scored two touchdowns on special teams by recovering blocked punts in the end zone (season opener and finale) . . . Was named AFC Defensive Player of the Year by The Committee of 101, the first Chiefs player to win a "101" award since Willie Lanier in '71 . . . Was named NFL Defensive Back of the Year by the NFL Alumni Association . . . Made All-NFL first teams from AP and The Sporting News, All-AFC first teams from UPI and Pro Football Weekly and All-NFL second team from NEA . . . Was selected AFC Defensive Player of the Month by the league office for September . . . His nine interceptions were the most by a Chiefs player for a single season since Gary Barbaro's 10 in '80 . . . Had two-interception outings vs. Buffalo (9/28) and Raiders (12/14). 1985: Posted his third consecutive seven-interception season and Pro Bowl berth . . . Also led the Chiefs in tackles by recording 85 solo stops and 134 total tackles . . . Tied a club and NFL record by intercepting four passes in a win over Seattle (9/29), matching 15 other players in league history, including former Chiefs Bobby Hunt (vs. Houston in '64) and Bobby Ply (vs. San Diego in '62) . . . Scored his first NFL touchdown vs. Pittsburgh when he picked off a David Woodley pass and returned it 47 yards . . . Five of his seven thefts came against the Seahawks . . . In addition to Pro Bowl honors, he was named to AFC first teams by UPI and Football News and to All-NFL second teams by AP and NEA. 1984: Proved that his spectacular '83 season was no fluke, earning his second trip to the Pro Bowl after another seven-theft campaign . . . The seven thefts tied him for third in the AFC and fourth in the NFL . . . Also finished as the Chiefs fourth-leading tackler with 128 (78 solos), three behind Art Still . . . Picked off two passes vs. Raiders (9/16) . . . Made a career-most 15 tackles (11 solos) vs. the N.Y. Giants (11/25) . . . Was named to the All-NFL first team by AP and College and Pro Football Newsweekly, the All-AFC first team by UPI and the All-NFL second team by NEA. 1983: Vaulted from backup defensive back to one of league's best safeties in '83 and capped that brilliant season by being voted as the AFC's starting free safety in the Pro Bowl . . . Won the Chiefs starting free safety job in training camp when All-Pro Gary Barbaro was an unsigned free agent . . . Took full advantage of the opportunity, starting all 16 games and leading the league in interceptions most of the season . . . Finished with seven, which ranked third in the AFC (Ken Riley and Vann McElroy had eight) and sixth in the NFL . . . Picked off two passes vs. St. Louis (10/2), his first double-interception game . . . Was the Chiefs second-leading tackler with 110 (71 solos), behind Jerry Blanton's 136 . . . Recovered two fumbles, forced two others and had 1½ sacks . . . Blocked a field goal attempt in Chiefs victory over St. Louis . . . Named to the College and Pro Football Newsweekly's All-Pro Team, the All-AFC first team by UPI, and Pro Football Weekly and AP All-Pro second team. 1982: Served as the Chiefs nickel back . . . Missed parts of four games due to a sprained ankle early in the season and a separated shoulder late in the year . . . Played in seven games with four tackles and no interceptions. 1981: Signed with the Chiefs as a free agent punter in the summer of '81 . . . When it became apparent he wouldn't beat out incumbent Bob Grupp, he switched to the secondary during the preseason . . . Was released on the final cutdown, but rejoined the club on Sept. 23 when the Chiefs made several roster moves due to injuries . . . Played in 13 games and made the first interception of his pro career in a victory over the Raiders (10/25), picking off Marc Wilson.

Quarterback Ht: 6-3 Wt: 210

How Acquired: Trade (Tampa Bay - 1988)
College: San Jose State
NFL Experience: 13
Birthdate: January 19, 1954
Birthplace: Oakland, California
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: Coming off one of the finest quarterbacking efforts in Kansas City history . . . His 224 completions, 414 attempts and 2,935 yards in '88 are all the second-highest totals for a single-season in team history; those marks are all his third-best ever . . . 13-year veteran eclipsed the 20,000-yard plateau in '88 and has now thrown for 22,517 yards . . . His other career totals are 140 games, 91 starts, 1,922 completions, 3,411 attempts, 56.3%, 132 touchdowns, 155 interceptions, and 70.8 QB rating . . . Joined the Chiefs on March 31, 1988 in a trade that sent safety Mark Robinson and '88 fourth- and eighth-round draft picks to Tampa Bay . . . Played for three NFL teams before coming to Kansas City: San Francisco 49ers ('77-80), Denver Broncos ('81-83) and Tampa Bay Buccaneers ('84-87) . . . Originally entered NFL as a 10th-round (257th overall) selection of the Dallas Cowboys in '77 . . . Has thrown for over 3,500 yards in two seasons, a career-high 3,652 yards with the 49ers in '79 and 3,554 yards in his first year with Bucs in '84 . . . During his record-setting '79 campaign, he set NFL single-season marks for completions with 347 and attempts with 578; both marks have been broken twice since that time . . . Owns 15 career 300-yard games (one with Chiefs, six with Bucs, two with Broncos and six with 49ers). 1988: In first season with the Chiefs, he put up some of the best numbers in team history despite entering the year as a backup to Bill Kenney . . . Completed 224 of his 414 attempts for 2,935 yards; all three figures are the second-highest figures in club history . . . The 2,935 yards were second to only Kenney's 4,348 (in '83) and better than Len Dawson's most prolific season of 2,879 yards in '64 . . . Was 4-6-1 as a starter . . . Did not start the opener, but relieved Kenney at halftime of Game 2 vs. Seattle (9/11) and was 22-38 for 244 yards, one touchdown and three interceptions in one half of play . . . Made first start as a Chief a week later against Denver (9/18), leading club to 20-13 win while gaining AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors . . . In Broncos victory, he completed 21 of 35 aerials for 259 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions, while also surpassing the 20,000-yard passing milestone . . . Tied a season high the next week vs. Chargers (9/25) with three scoring passes . . . Collected 15th career 300-yard passing game by accumulating 312 yards on 17-34 accuracy with a pair of touchdowns and interceptions at N.Y. Jets (10/2) . . . Did not start but made one relief appearance during a three-week period at mid-season . . . Next start was in 31-28 win over AFC Champion Cincinnati, when he passed for 285 yards and a touchdown on 22-37 marksmanship . . . Tossed three touchdowns and gathered 267 yards in victory over N.Y. Jets (12/4) . . . Passed for over 250 yards in seven of his 11 starts. At Tampa Bay (1984-87): Had a solid '87 season in which he completed 159 of 275 passes (57.8%) for 1,891 yards, 14 touchdowns and just seven interceptions . . . His 57.8% led all NFC quarterbacks and his career-best 85.3 rating was fifth-best in the NFC and ninth in the NFL . . . Was voted the team's MVP in '87 after starting the first eight non-strike affairs before playing behind Bucs No. 1 draft pick Vinny Testaverde in the final four contests . . . In the season opener vs. Atlanta (9/13) he was named the NFC Offensive Player of the Week when he tossed a career-high five touchdown passes along with 333 yards on 24 of 34 accuracy . . . Opened the first two games of the '86 season before Steve Young assumed the starting role . . . Had a disappointing season opener vs. San Francisco (9/7) when he threw seven interceptions, but rebounded the following week vs. Minnesota (9/14) by completing a Tampa Bay-record 15 straight passes . . . Subbed for Young in four other games the rest of the '86 season and played in all 16 games as a holder . . . Threw 100th touchdown pass on a fake field goal vs. St. Louis (10/12) . . . Enjoyed a strong '85 campaign despite poor team record, he was among the NFC leaders in passing yards and TD passes after 11 starts, when Bucs began to test Young . . . 19 TD passes through 11 games led NFC and was one short of Bucs record . . . Had career-best day in '85 vs. Miami (10/20) with 19 of 32 passing for 365 yards and four touchdowns . . . Had six 300-yard passing days as a Buc . . . First won starting job with Tampa Bay in third game of '84 season and went on to lead team to 17 new offensive records, while his personal record marks included the highest single-season rating (79.3) in Bucs history . . . Tied for sixth-most accurate passing game in NFL history at Detroit (10/14/84) with 25 of 29 passing (86.2%) . . . Tied a Bucs record with at least one TD pass in nine consecutive games in '84 . . . Also had career-best 97 consecutive passes without an interception in '84 . . . Was traded to the Bucs from Denver in exchange for a fourth-round pick in '84 and second-round choice in '85. At Denver (1981-83): Split '83 duty at Denver with John Elway and finished 119 of 215 (55.3%) for 1,617 yards and nine TD's . . . Relieved Elway and led Broncos to come-from-behind wins over Pittsburgh and Baltimore to start the season and then replaced Elway as a starter in Game 6 as Denver went on to win four straight . . . Injured throwing shoulder in the season's 10th game of '83 and didn't return to starting action until opening playoff game vs. Seattle . . . 79.9 pass rating in '83 was best of career until '87 . . . Threw seven touchdowns in nine games in '82 . . . Set an NFL record by completing 18 straight passes in '82-83 (set the mark vs. Chiefs after beginning streak vs. L.A. Rams) but was broken in '83 by Ken Anderson . . . Played quarterback in nine games with one start in '81 . . . Acquired by Broncos from San Francisco prior to '81 season for a fourth-round '83 draft pick. At San Francisco (1977-80): Started nine games and played in 11 in '80 after suffering a voice problem sustained from a blow to the throat (used amplifier under shoulder pads to communicate), finishing season with 1,998 passing yards and 12 TD's . . . Threw 93-yard TD pass to Freddie Soloman vs. Atlanta (9/28/80) for his career longest pass . . . Played in all 16 games with 15 starts during record-setting '79 campaign . . . Passed for 3,652 yards and set NFL records with 347 completions and 578 attempts (both since broken) . . . Started 11 games for 49ers in '78 before season-ending knee injury required surgery (also missed four games with a wrist injury that year) . . . Joe Montana joined the club in '79 and became the 49ers starting QB in '80 . . . Was on the 49ers roster for five games in '77 but did not see any action . . . Was originally a 10th-round (275th overall) selection of the Dallas Cowboys in '77, but was released in the preseason and picked up on waivers by the 49ers.

College/Personal: Set nine school records at San Jose State in just one season as a starter . . . His '76 season stats include 141 of 262 passing (53.8%) for 2,084 yards and 19 touchdowns . . . Named Pacific Coast Athletic Conference MVP that season . . . Transferred to San Jose State from Fullerton Junior College, where he was a JUCO All-America honoree . . . Grew up in Southern California after being born in Oakland . . . Attended Savannah High School in Anaheim, where he was a center before moving to quarterback . . . Was the second-ranked pole vaulter (15'2") in California and a starting forward on the basketball squad . . . Is an avid tennis player who also enjoys sailing, fishing and golf . . . Earned a BS degree in human performance from San Jose State in '80 . . . Inducted into the San Jose State Hall of Fame in '88 . . . Given name: Steve L. DeBerg . . . Birthplace: Denver, Colorado
Residence: Aurora, Colorado

Pro Career: Continues to be the Chiefs most consistent rusher despite only starting 18 games over the past three seasons . . . Finished last year as the starting halfback and will battle Paul Palmer for the job in '89 . . . Combines deceptive speed with an incredible sense of balance . . . Led the Chiefs in rushing each of his first two NFL campaigns (1984-85), becoming only fourth player in team history to do so (Abner Haynes 1960-61, Mike Garrett 1969-70, and Woody Green 1974-75 preceded him) . . . In just five years, he already ranks sixth on the Chiefs all-time rushing charts with 2,478 yards on 588 carries (4.2 yards per carry) . . . Recorded his first 100-yard game in '87 and has gained over 50 yards on 19 occasions . . . Was the team's leading rusher in 21 of his first 35 pro games . . . Has also been used frequently as a receiver out of the backfield, making 107 receptions for 879 yards . . . Has scored 15 touchdowns (13 rushing and two receiving) . . . Has recorded over 400 yards in four of his five NFL seasons . . . Has gained over 100 combined yards eight times, four as a rookie in '84, twice in '87 and '88. 1988: Missed first four weeks of season with a separated right shoulder, but still finished as club's third-leading rusher with 438 yards . . . Suffered injury in final preseason game and was on injured reserve the first four weeks . . . Season marked his fourth time over 400 yards rushing . . . Started last five outings of season and had 264 of his yards in those contests . . . Was held without a touchdown for first time in career . . . Was used effectively as a receiver, making 20 catches for 198 yards . . . Had career receiving bests of seven catches and 99 yards at Pittsburgh (11/27) . . . Had season best rushing effort vs. Seahawks (11/20), gaining 84 yards on 16 totes . . . In back-to-back games, collected over 100 all-purpose yards: 114 yards (84 rushing and 30 receiving) vs. Seattle (11/20) and 129 yards (30 rushing and 99 receiving) vs. Steelers (11/27) . . . Moved ahead of Ted McKnight into sixth place on Chiefs career rushing list with 2,478 yards. 1987: Enjoyed outstanding season that was highlighted by strong showings in the final five games . . . Came on strong in the final five outings with 365 yards on 52 carries (7.0 avg.) and three touchdowns, compared to 101 yards on 30 carries the first seven weeks of the season . . . Finished season as club's second-leading rusher with 466 yards on 82 carries for an excellent 5.7 yards-per-carry average . . . That 5.7 average was the Chiefs best since Ted McKnight's 6.0 mark in '78 . . . Also added 118 yards on 14 catches as the club's fourth-leading receiver . . . Collected his first 100-yard rushing day in the season finale vs. Seattle (12/27) when he carried the ball 12 times for 107 yards . . . Had a 37-yard TD run in the win over the Seahawks . . . Big play producer also galloped 64 yards for a TD at Denver the week before (12/19) for the team's longest run since his 69-yarder in '84 . . . Finished with 93 yards on 10 carries and 37 yards on three receptions at Denver . . . Had an impressive outing in Thanksgiving Day win at Detroit (11/26), rushing for 87 yards on 14 totes, while scoring from two yards out . . . Played in all 12 non-strike contests and started six times. 1986: Had career lows of 71 carries for 295 yards (4.2 avg.) and two touchdowns . . . Still finished third on the team in rushing behind Mike Pruitt and Boyce Green . . . Assumed his starting role the first half of the season and led the team in rushing three times, but was replaced at mid-season by Green . . . His top game was in the season-opening win over Cincinnati (9/7), gaining 62 yards on 10 carries including a spectacular 40-yard sprint that set up a touchdown . . . He didn't reach double figures in carries the remainder of the season . . . Averaged 5.0 yards per carry in the first three contests . . . Sustained a thigh bruise at Buffalo (9/28) and missed 1½ games . . . Played in 15 games and started seven. 1985: Was the starting halfback the entire season and nearly matched his lofty rookie totals in all categories . . . Pro Career: Joined Chiefs on April 1, 1989 as an unprotected free agent from the Miami Dolphins . . . Brings 14 years of previous NFL experience with him to Kansas City . . . In 182 career games (140 starts), he has completed 2,151 of 4,056 passes for 27,805 yards with 177 touchdowns and 159 interceptions . . . Ranks among the league's Top 20 in three career passing categories: attempts (13th), completions (15th) and passing yards (17th) . . . Spent the last two seasons with the Dolphins, but saw action at quarterback in just three contests as Dan Marino's backup . . . He enjoyed his greatest success with the Philadelphia Eagles from '77-86 . . . Started 137 of 142 games during that span and owns nearly all Eagles career passing records, including attempts (3,918), completions (2,088), yards (26,963), touchdown passes (175), interceptions (151) and 300-yard games (12) . . . Had four 3,000-yard passing seasons in Philadelphia . . . The Chiefs are the only NFL team Jaworski has never faced . . . His finest season came in '80 when he led the Eagles to the NFC Championship and a berth in Super Bowl XV . . . That season he was the top-ranked passer in the NFC, passing for 3,529 yards and 27 touchdowns en route to his only Pro Bowl appearance . . . Was a second-round draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams in '73 out of Youngstown State . . . Played in 24 games with three starts in his brief stint with the Rams . . . Was traded by the Rams to the Eagles for tight end Charlie Young before the '77 season. At Miami (1987-88): Saw his first action as a Dolphin in '88, playing in three games as a reserve . . . Completed nine of 14 passes for 123 yards and one touchdown . . . Saw most extensive playing time in a 40-24 loss to Pittsburgh (12/19), hitting eight of 10 for 108 yards, including a 13-yard scoring pass to Mark Clayton . . . Signed with Miami as a free agent on August 18, 1987 after quarterbacks Marino (finger) and Jim Karsatos (knee) suffered injuries in the preseason opener . . . Did not see any action all season . . . Following the players' strike, he was placed on the five-man inactive list for the last 10 games of the season . . . Helped Dolphin assistants in the press box during games . . . Was granted free agency from the Eagles on March 1, 1987 when the club failed to guarantee his '87 contract. At Philadelphia (1977-86): Missed the last six games of the '86 season after suffering torn tendon in little finger on passing hand vs. N.Y. Giants (11/9) . . . Was Eagles starter in nine of first 10 games in '86 . . . Was named Eagles offensive MVP by teammates in '85 . . . After starting '85 season opener, he did not start next four games, but regained starting position after replacing Randall Cunningham in second quarter at New Orleans (10/6) and nearly rallied Eagles to victory with 23-40 passing for 274 yards and three TD's . . . Tossed fourth quarter TD's to engineer comeback wins in ensuing weeks vs. Dallas and Buffalo . . . Selected as league offensive player of the week by Sports Illustrated after hitting 22 of 35 for 380 yards and one TD against Dallas (10/20/85) . . . Named NFL Player of the Month by PFWA in October '85 after completing 84 of 145 passes for 1,155 yards and eight scores . . . Had career-high 394 passing yards at San Francisco (11/3/85) . . . One week later, his NFL-record-tying 99-yard scoring strike to Mike Quick gave Philadelphia a 23-17 OT win over Atlanta (11/10/85) . . . Was sidelined for the final three games of '84 campaign after suffering fractured left fibula and torn ankle ligaments at St. Louis (11/25/84) . . . Injury snapped his streak of 116 consecutive regular season starts (an unofficial record for NFL quarterbacks) . . . Was named NFL Comeback Player of the Year by NFL Films after extensive rehab . . . Once was sacked 11 times vs. St. Louis (12/18/83), one short of NFL record . . . Passed for 3,529 yards in '80 and 3,095 yards in '81, joining Sonny Jurgensen as only QB in Eagles history to surpass the 3000-yard mark in successive years . . .

Enjoyed best season of storied career in '80 as Eagles advanced to Super Bowl XV in New Orleans (27-10 loss to Oakland) . . . Presented with Bert Bell Award by Maxwell Club as league player of the year for leading Eagles to NFC Championship in '80 . . . Was top-rated passer in NFC (second in NFL) in '80 with career-high 90.9 rating . . . Also set single-season career highs for yards (3,529), completions (257) and TD passes (27) that year . . . Was named NFC Player of the Year by UPI and participated in only Pro Bowl . . . Was the third-ranked passer in the NFC in '79 with 76.8 rating . . . Known as the "Polish Rifle" during height of career . . . Was acquired by Eagles on March 9, 1977 from L.A. Rams for rights to TE Charlie Young. At Los Angeles Rams (1973-76): Began '76 season as Rams starter, but suffered a broken collarbone in an opening-day win over Atlanta . . . Was with Rams for three NFC Championship Games ('74-76), seeing action only in 37-7 loss to Dallas in '75 . . . Spent '73 rookie season on taxi squad . . . Was second-round draft choice (37th overall) of L.A. Rams in '73.

College/Personal: Played four seasons at Youngstown State ('69-72) . . . Completed 325 of 658 passes for 4,612 yards and 32 TD's during college career . . . In senior season, finished fifth in NCAA small college passing by completing 139 of 259 attempts for 2,123 yards and 18 TD's . . . Played in Senior Bowl and '72 Ohio Shrine Bowl . . . Attended Lackawanna (N.Y.) High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball . . . Hosts "Ron Jaworski Show," a sports talk show, every Friday night on WIP Radio in Philadelphia . . . Owns and operates four health clubs in Philadelphia and New Jersey, named "Ron Jaworski's Sportsworld" . . . Very active in Philadelphia-area charities . . . Annually sponsors a charity golf tournament at Eagles' Nest Country Club (which he owns), which has raised over $100,000 . . . Has done charity work for United Way, Philadelphia Children's Hospital, Sunshine Foundation, Ronald McDonald House, leukemia foundation, multiple sclerosis, cystic fibrosis, American Red Cross blood donor program, Goodwill Industries, U.S. Department of Labor Job Corps, U.S. Savings Bonds program, Small Businessmen's Association of New Jersey and Pennsylvania Game Commission . . . Nickname is "Jaws" . . . Hobbies include playing golf and racquetball . . . Full name: Ronald Vincent Jaworski . . . Married, wife Liz, two daughters, Joleen (13) and Jessica (11), and one son, William (5).

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3 - 1983)
College: Grambling
NFL Experience: 7
Birthdate: October 6, 1960
Birthplace: Mansfield, Louisiana
Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Pro Career: One of the most respected cornerbacks in the NFL who has been rewarded for his expertise by being selected for duty on the AFC Pro Bowl squad in '87 and '88 . . . Possesses the ability to dominate a football game with both his coverage skills and special teams exploits . . . Has been the Chiefs starting left cornerback the past five years after spending most of his rookie season as the nickel back . . . As a defender, he has collected 22 interceptions in his six pro seasons, and as a special teams performer, he has created havoc by blocking or deflecting seven kicks in the past three years (including '86 playoff game) . . . Already ranks 10th on the Chiefs all-time interception list with 22 . . . Was named to the Chiefs 25-Year All-Time Team in '87 . . . Led all AFC interceptors with eight thefts in '85 . . . Career totals are 88 games, 71 starts, 336 tackles (282 solos), 22 interceptions and six fumble recoveries . . . Has missed just four games during his pro career . . . Played right corner as a rookie, then switched to the left side in '84, when Gary Green was traded, and has resided there ever since . . . Has just two interceptions the past two years, but is rarely tested by opposing quarterbacks. 1988: Was voted to second straight Pro Bowl and first as a starter . . . Was first team All-AFC by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football News and honorable mention All-NFL by AP . . . Led team in pass deflections for second consecutive year with 12 . . . Tied career low with one interception, getting the lone theft vs. Lions (10/23) . . . Played in 14 games with 12 starts; did not attend one game due to father's death and missed three starts with a left ankle sprain . . . Contributed 45 tackles (32 solos), a fumble recovery and a blocked punt . . . Was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week vs. Bengals (11/13) after he blocked a punt for a safety, recovered a fumble to set up the game-winning field goal, deflected two passes and added four tackles . . . Block and fumble recovery took place in last 6:06 of game . . . Made a season-high six tackles (five solos) at L.A. Raiders (10/30) . . . Deflected a season-best five passes, while adding four tackles, at Pittsburgh (11/27). 1987: Was selected to the AFC Pro Bowl squad for the first time in his five-year career . . . Lone interception of season came on a fake punt in the season opener vs. San Diego (9/13) . . . Started all 12 non-strike contests at left cornerback, and finished the season with 43 total tackles (34 unassisted), one fumble recovery and a team-high nine deflected passes . . . Helped Chiefs defeat Detroit on Thanksgiving Day (11/26) with a team-leading eight tackles (seven solos) and a season-high three deflected passes . . . Deflected a punt at Chicago (11/1) which ended up travelling just 14 yards . . . Was a second team All-AFC selection by UPI. 1986: Was equally sensational on defense and special teams and was voted the Chiefs Most Valuable Player for '86 by his teammates . . . Defensively, he intercepted four passes, led the unit in deflected passes and had two fumble recoveries . . . On special teams, he blocked or deflected a team-record four punts during the regular season and tackled another punter before the kick . . . Plus, he blocked a punt and recovered it for a touchdown in the playoff game vs. the Jets (12/28) . . . Made a dramatic impact on several games, including the playoff-clinching win at Pittsburgh (12/21) in the finale, when he intercepted a pass to kill a late Steeler drive, recovered a fumble, and blocked a punt that was recovered in the end zone for a touchdown . . . In a Week 9 come-from-behind win at San Diego (11/2), he forced turnovers on three consecutive Charger possessions in the fourth quarter comeback . . . That included two interceptions, which was the fourth multiple-interception game of his career, and a forced fumble . . . Recorded 69 tackles for the season, including 61 unassisted stops . . . Didn't play vs. Cleveland (10/12) due to a strained quad muscle which had bothered him for several weeks . . . Blocked punts came vs. San Diego (10/19), both Denver games (11/16, 12/7) and Pittsburgh, and each one either set up a touchdown or was recovered for TD. 1985: A torrid season-ending surge gave him a share of the AFC interception title with eight, tying the Colts Eugene Daniel . . . Was one behind NFL leader Everson Walls of Dallas . . . Six of his thefts came in the final three games of the season . . . Began the flurry by picking off three passes vs. Atlanta (12/8), a personal best and one shy of tying the club and NFL standard . . . A week later he intercepted two passes at Denver (12/14), then finished the season with one vs. San Diego (12/22) . . . Also had one interception in each of the first two games of the season . . . Compiled 65 solo tackles to rank third on the team and 74 total stops which tied him for sixth . . . Also had 1½ sacks . . . Put together a masterful performance in a Thursday night game vs. the Raiders (9/12), making a season-high eight solo tackles, one interception, one forced fumble, while recovering a Jim Plunkett fumble in the end zone for his first NFL touchdown and the Chiefs final score of a 36-20 win . . . Started all 16 games. 1984: Stepped forward as a leading performer on the Chiefs defense in his first year as a starter . . . Made four interceptions and recorded 66 tackles (60 solos) . . . His four thefts came in a five-week span . . . After starting the first 15 games, he missed the season finale after straining his right knee the previous week vs. Seattle (12/9). 1983: Spent most of his rookie year as the team's nickel back until winning the starting job in the season finale vs. Denver (12/18) . . . Made four interceptions and recorded 36 total tackles while playing in all 16 games . . . First NFL theft came off Jim Hart vs. St. Louis (10/2), then picked off two Plunkett passes in the first quarter the following week vs. the Raiders (10/9) . . . Final interception came at Seattle (11/27), which he returned a career-long 34 yards . . . On special teams, he contributed a team-leading 27 tackles and recovered a fumble on a punt return vs. the Giants (10/16) that set up a Chiefs TD . . . Was the Chiefs third-round draft choice in '83.

College/Personal: Was a first team All-Southwestern Athletic Conference selection his final two years at Grambling . . . Intercepted 11 passes in those two seasons, including a SWAC-leading seven as a junior . . . Attended DeSoto High School in Mansfield, La., where he was a two-year all-district defensive back . . . NICK LOWERY • 8
Placekicker Ht: 6-4 Wt: 189

How Acquired: Free Agent (1980)
College: Dartmouth
NFL Experience: 10
Birthdate: May 27, 1956
Birthplace: Munich, Germany
Residence: Fairway, Kansas

Pro Career: Enters '89 as the second-most accurate field goal and PAT kicker in NFL history . . . His career field goal percentage of 77.91% (201-258) trails only the Saints Morten Andersen's 78.24% (151-193), while his career PAT accuracy rate of 99.35% (304-306) trails only Tommy Davis' league record of 99.43% (348-350) . . . Stands a good chance of being the all-time accuracy leader in both categories by the end of the '89 campaign . . . Has been the Chiefs only placekicker since '80 (strike games excluded) when he replaced the legendary Jan Stenerud, who kicked for the Chiefs from '67-79 . . . The Raiders with Chris Bahr and the Jets with Pat Leahy are the only other teams to retain the same kicker in the '80s . . . Lowery's FG% of 78.2% in the '80's is higher than any other team's . . . Possibly the most telling statistic of a placekicker's performance is average length of field goals made and missed, which Lowery leads all kickers this decade with a 36.4-yard average made field goal and a 44.2-yard average missed field goal . . . Shares the NFL record for most 50+ yard field goals with Stenerud at 17 . . . Set a league record for most games (three) with two 50+ yard field goals; only Mick Luckhurst has ever done it twice . . . Is deadly within 50 yards, hitting 83.3% (184-221) . . . Moved into 18th place on the NFL's all-time scoring list with 907 career points . . . Ranks second on Chiefs all-time charts in scoring (900), field goals made (201), field goals attempted (257), PAT's made (297) and PAT's attempted (299); trails Stenerud in each category . . . Owns the three longest field goals in team history with a pair of 58-yard blasts and a 57-yard boot . . . 58-yarders tie for the fourth-longest in NFL annals

. . . Played in one Pro Bowl Game (following '81 season) . . . Has scored 100 or more points in six seasons, setting a team record . . . Owns the top four field goal percentage seasons in team history, including club-record 88.9% accuracy rate in '85 . . . Enters '89 with a club-record string of 172 straight PAT's made, which is the longest current streak in the NFL . . . Has played in 132 games in a row, the longest current streak on team . . . Continues to be a clutch performer, winning back-to-back games in '88 on last-minute field goals; has won games or sent them into overtime with final-two-minute field goals eight times during his career against just three failed opportunities . . . In his previous nine seasons, he has made 46-56 fourth-quarter field goals, good for 82.1% . . . Has made 14 of his last 16 fourth quarter field goals . . . Has made five 50+ yard field goals in a row . . . Has highest field goal percentage in NFL the last four years, hitting at an 82.9% clip (89-108) . . . Before latching on with Kansas City, he was cut 11 times by eight different teams. 1988: Had another outstanding season, putting through 27 of 32 field goal tries for 84.3%, the second-highest accuracy mark in team history (he had a 88.9% in '85) . . . Also made all 23 of his PAT efforts . . . Only Buffalo's Scott Norwood (86.5%, 32-37) and Detroit's Eddie Murray (95.2%, 20-21) had better FG% . . . Had three 50+ yard field goals, tying Stenerud's league record of 17 . . . Won back-to-back games with last-minute field goals, nailing a 39-yarder at :02 giving the Chiefs a 31-28 win over Cincinnati (11/13) and hitting a 40-yarder at :46 to give Kansas City a 27-24 victory over Seattle (11/20) . . . His 27 field goals set a personal high and tied Stenerud for the second most in team history . . . Accounted for 41.6% of the team's points (104 of 254) . . . Was named to Sports Illustrated's first team All-NFL . . . Scored 900th point as a Chief in season finale at San Diego (12/18) . . . Tied a Chiefs record with five field goals vs. Bengals (11/13). 1987: Enjoyed one of the finest seasons of his career, making 19 of 23 field goal tries and establishing a new NFL record . . . His 82.6% FG accuracy rate was second-best in KC history (behind his own mark) and third-highest in the NFL in '87 . . . He became the first kicker in NFL history to kick two 50-or-more yard field goals in three games when he booted 52- and 54-yarders in a Thanksgiving Day win over Detroit (11/26) . . . Only Atlanta's Mick Luckhurst has ever kicked two 50+ yarders on two occasions and 10 players have accomplished the feat once . . . Hit a 33-yard field goal with :00 left on the clock at Cincinnati (12/6) to send the game into overtime . . . Made all three field goals, including two in the fourth period, in a 16-10 win over the Raiders (12/13) . . . Scored all the Chiefs points in a two-game stretch in November, with nine markers (three FG's) vs. Jets (11/15) and three (one FG) vs. Packers (11/22) . . . Accounted for at least 10 points in three games, giving him 24 such games in his career . . . Had just the fourth blocked field goal of his career vs. Chicago (11/1). 1986: Ranked fifth in the AFC with 100 points, but his 19 field goals and 26 attempts were career-lows for a 16-game season . . . Clutch performer kicked two game-winning field goals during the year: at San Diego (11/2) he nailed a 37-yarder with seven seconds left for a dramatic 24-23 comeback victory; at Buffalo (9/28) he nailed a 46-yard game-winner with 1:07 left to give the Chiefs a 20-17 win . . . Missed first-ever kick from less than 30 yards when a 29-yarder was blocked at San Diego (11/2) . . . Was named second team All-AFC by UPI and honorable mention All-Pro by AP. 1985: Broke his own record for single-season completion percentage by making 24 of 27 field goal attempts for a 88.9 percentage . . . It was the third-best season in NFL history, behind Mark Moseley (20-21 in '82) and Stenerud (22-24 in '81) . . . Remarkable season won him the honor as placekicker on the All-NFL team, thanks to first team votes from AP and NEA . . . Also was named to the All-AFC second team by UPI . . . Was voted as first alternate to the AFC Pro Bowl team, behind Anderson . . . Scored 107 points, third-most in his career and placing him sixth in the AFC and 10th in the NFL . . . Made 22 of 23 attempts inside the 50-yard line . . . Kicked nine field goals (9-9) and scored 35 points in the first two games alone, the best two-game start in KC history . . . Was 4-4 in a season-opening 47-27 win at New Orleans (9/8), including two 52-yarders that tied an NFL record (which he matched in '80 and '87 as well) for most field goals over 50 yards in a game . . . Four nights later vs. Raiders (9/12), he produced the best performance of his career by making all five FG tries in a 36-20 win . . . The five field goals were a personal high, tied a team record set by Stenerud and were just one shy of the league record for most FG's in a game with no misses . . . He had a 58-yarder in the game which tied his personal best as the fourth-longest in NFL history. 1984: Connected on 23 of 33 field goal attempts and was selected as the second alternate for the AFC Pro Bowl . . . His 23 FG's ranked third in the AFC and tied for eighth in the NFL, his 33 FGA's were most in the AFC and tied for fourth in the NFL and his 104 points ranked fourth in the AFC and ninth in the NFL . . . Kicked three fourth-quarter field goals vs. Denver (12/2), including a 42-yard game-winner with 1:56 remaining in a 16-13 victory. 1983: Set the team record for field goal completion percentage for the second straight season (which he broke again in '85) by making 24 of 30 attempts for 80.0% . . . Only misses were from 52, 51, 48, 47, 43 and 42 yards out . . . Set a personal best with 116 points, the third-best mark in Chiefs history and good enough for second in the AFC and sixth in the NFL that year . . . Boomed a 58-yarder at Washington (9/18) for a team record and third-longest in NFL annals at that time . . . Later that year, he kicked a 54-yarder vs. the Raiders (11/6) . . . Booted a 41-yarder in OT to give Chiefs a 13-10 win over Houston (10/23). 1982: His statistics from the nine-game season almost seemed to reflect a normal 16-game slate . . . Broke the Chiefs field goal accuracy record for the first time by converting 19 of 24 attempts for 79.2%, bettering Stenerud's '69 mark of 77.1% . . . He led the AFC in field goals made for the second straight year with 19, which finished second in the NFL next to Moseley's 20 . . . His 74 points were second in the conference and third in the NFL . . . Made 19 of 21 attempts inside the 50-yard line and was perfect (11-11) inside the 40 . . . Earned second team AFC honors from UPI. 1981: Capped a brilliant '81 season by being voted as the placekicker for the AFC Pro Bowl team . . . Proceeded to win the game by kicking a 23-yard field goal with three seconds remaining . . . Connected on 26 of 36 attempts that year, including 25 of 29 inside the 50, while scoring 115 points . . . The 26 FG's were tops in the AFC and 115 points were good for second place . . . Selected to All-NFL team by NEA and named first team All-AFC by UPI. 1980: After beating out Stenerud, he quickly rebutted the skeptics with superb kicking . . . In the second game of the season vs. Seattle (9/14), he boomed a 57-yard field goal, which broke the club record of 55 yards set by Stenerud in '70 . . . Made good on 20 of 26 field goals, including 16 of 19 inside midfield . . . His four kicks of 50 yards or more tied for second in NFL history, one behind the all-time mark set by Denver's Fred Steinfort that year. Pre-Chiefs: Before winning a spot with the Chiefs, he tried unsuccessfully with eight other NFL teams . . . After not being drafted out of Dartmouth, he had a tryout with the N.Y. Jets in '78, but was cut during training camp . . . He then signed with New England during mid-season and appeared in two games, connecting on all seven PAT's and missing his only FG attempt before being released . . . Failed in tryouts with Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore, New Orleans, Tampa Bay and San Diego in '79.

College/Personal: Graduated from Dartmouth with a government degree . . . Has been involved in government during his off-seasons, beginning government career as an intern for U.S. Senator John Chafee . . . BILL MAAS • 63
Nose Tackle Ht: 6-5 Wt: 268

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1 - 1984)
College: Pittsburgh
NFL Experience: 6
Birthdate: March 2, 1962
Birthplace: Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: Has distinguished himself as one of the NFL's best nose tackles as he enters his sixth season with the Chiefs . . . Was the AFC's starting nose tackle in the '87 and '88 Pro Bowls, missing a chance at a third straight bid with a knee injury last season . . . Using a relentless style that attracts constant double-team efforts, he is the key man in the middle of the Chiefs defensive line . . . Stepped in immediately as the starting nose tackle after being the team's No. 1 draft pick in '84, the first defensive lineman taken that year as the fifth overall selection . . . In his 65 games (all starts), he has accumulated 266 tackles (181 solos), 29 sacks, four fumble recoveries, three blocked field goals, a safety and a touchdown (on a fumble recovery). 1988: Was off to the best start of his career before he suffered a season-ending knee injury in Game 8 vs. Detroit (10/16) . . . Underwent arthroscopic surgery on his left knee on October 25 and was placed on injured reserve for the rest of the season three days later . . . Recorded four sacks in his eight appearances, which ended up leading the team . . . Was headed toward first 100-tackle season, finishing with 52, the third-most in his career . . . Had a career-high 17 tackles (10 solos) at Houston (10/9) . . . Collected 10 tackles (three solos) and four QB hurries in season opener vs. Browns (9/4) . . . Made season-high two sacks, including a safety on quarterback Babe Laufenberg vs. San Diego (9/25) . . . Registered eight tackles (four solos) and ½-sack before spraining knee vs. Lions . . . Had missed just three games before missing eight in '88. 1987: Named AFC's starting nose tackle in the Pro Bowl for the second straight year . . . Finished second on the team with six sacks and first with three forced fumbles . . . Added 33 total tackles, including 22 solo stops . . . Scored his first NFL touchdown after recovering a fumble (caused on a sack of Mark Malone by Jack Del Rio) and returning it six yards for the score vs. Pittsburgh (11/8) . . . Blocked his third career field goal at Cincinnati (12/6) and had it returned 65 yards by Kevin Ross for a touchdown . . . Started 11 games, missing one (11/22 vs. Green Bay) and parts of two others with a right ankle sprain . . . Had outstanding game at San Diego (10/25) when he registered five unassisted tackles, forced a fumble and had 1½ sacks . . . Finished the season strong with 3½ sacks in final three games . . . Was a first team All-NFL selection by Pro Football Weekly, second team All-Pro by NEA and first team All-AFC by both UPI and Pro Football Weekly. 1986: Earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl with a spectacular season in which he ranked third or better in nearly every category on the Chiefs dominating defense . . . Recorded seven sacks (tied for career high, second on the team), two fumble recoveries (tied for lead), two forced fumbles (second on team), two pass deflections (third on team) and 53 tackles (40 solos) . . . Also played a major role on KC's record-breaking special teams, blocking two field goals . . . First was in a 24-23 win at San Diego (11/2) and his second was in the finale at Pittsburgh (12/21), which was returned for the winning TD

by Lloyd Burruss that boosted the Chiefs into the playoffs . . . Ability to dominate a game was especially noticeable vs. Houston, when he made two sacks, recovered a fumble to set up field goal and forced another fumble in 27-13 win over Oilers (9/21) . . . Started all 16 games for the second straight year . . . Also had six tackles and one sack in playoff game vs. Jets (12/28) . . . In addition to Pro Bowl honors, he was named to the All-NFL first team by Pro Football Weekly and to AP's second team All-Pro squad. 1985: Started at two different positions, the first 11 at nose tackle and the final five contests at left end . . . Was the team's top sacker, dumping opposing quarterbacks seven times . . . Recorded 74 total tackles (fifth-most on team and most among defensive linemen), 16 QB pressures (second), one pass deflection and one fumble recovery . . . Earned honorable mention All-NFL honors from AP . . . At San Diego (10/13), he tied a personal best by making three sacks in a seven-tackle effort . . . In a Thursday night national TV win over the Raiders (9/12), he netted two sacks and the second hit forced a Jim Plunkett fumble that was recovered on the L.A. six-yard line, setting up a Chiefs touchdown . . . Started all 16 games. 1984: Had major impact on the Chiefs improved defense as one of the NFL's top rookies in '84 . . . Stepped in as the starting nose tackle from day one and was a big reason why the Chiefs mounted the best pass rush in franchise history (50 sacks) . . . Was named the NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year by AP despite being limited in the second half of the season by a leg injury (fractured fibula) suffered Week 7 . . . Came back quickly, missing just two complete games, but was in and out of the lineup the remainder of the season when the leg got hit . . . Finished with five sacks (third on team), and 43 total tackles (29 unassisted) . . . Made his NFL debut at Pittsburgh (9/2), the town where he gained collegiate fame, and played opposite All-Pro center Mike Webster . . . Made his first NFL sack in that game . . . Best game as a rookie came in a Week 5 victory over Cleveland (9/30), when he contributed three sacks to a Chiefs-record total of 11, the second-best in NFL history . . . Was named to All-Rookie teams by UPI, Pro Football Writers, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest.

Injured back in that outing and did not play the following week at Houston (10/9) . . . Started the next eight weeks and really started to come on from Game 11 to Game 14 . . . In that four game stretch, he galloped for 280 yards and three scores while averaging 4.8 yards per run . . . Had second career 100-yard game with 102 yards vs. Cincinnati (11/13); also had a touchdown and career-long 48-yard run in the contest . . . Became the first Kansas City running back to have 100-yard games in consecutive seasons since '78-79 (Tony Reed) and first to have two 100-yard outings since '81 (Joe Delaney) . . . Broke his right hand escorting James Saxon into end zone on game-winning touchdown vs. N.Y. Jets (12/4) . . . Missed final two games and was placed on injured reserve for second time on December 14. 1987: Burst to the forefront of the Chiefs offensive attack with an outstanding rookie campaign in '87 . . . Stepped in as the club's starting fullback on the first day of training camp and by season's end led all NFL rookie runners with 660 yards . . . Carried the ball 157 times, nearly twice as many as the next KC rusher (Herman Heard, 82), while scoring three rushing touchdowns . . . Was also the Chiefs third-leading receiver (first among RB's) with 24 catches for 169 yards . . . Was voted the team's Mack Lee Hill Award, which annually goes to the Chiefs top rookie, and was named to the Pro Football Writers all-rookie team . . . Had a sensational NFL debut by rushing for 105 yards on 21 carries in the season opener vs. San Diego (9/13), marking the first time a KC rookie gained 100 yards in his first pro game . . . It was the Chiefs first 100-yard performance since '85 . . . Also broke off a 43-yard touchdown run in the opener, his longest run of the year . . . Ran for 93 yards, including 83 in the first half, at Chicago (11/1), the best rushing day against the Bears in '87 . . . Had best receiving day at San Diego (10/25) when he caught four passes for 45 yards, including a season-long of 22 yards . . . Helped Chiefs average 120 rushing yards per game, the team's highest average since '81 . . . Played with a painful shoulder injury most of his rookie campaign . . . Fumbled just five times in 157 carries, a ratio of once every 31.4 carries, which is a better ratio than O.J. Simpson (fumble every 30.2 carries), Eric Dickerson (30.0), Tony Dorsett (29.7), Jim Brown (28.8), Franco Harris (26.9), Walter Payton (21.8) and Gale Sayers (18.4) had in their rookie outings . . . Chiefs traded up 11 spots in the '87 draft's second round, swapping second-round positions and giving the Oilers a fourth-round pick, to take him . . . Was the eighth running back selected in '87, and he more than doubled the rushing output of each of the seven backs taken ahead of him and had just 651 fewer yards than the lot combined.

College/Personal: A Nigeria-born athlete who came to the United States in the fall of '82 to compete for Azusa Pacific's national championship track and field program . . . Chose to play football when he wasn't selected for the Nigeria Olympic squad in '84 . . . Made great strides in just three years of organized football, capped by a record-breaking performance in the Senior Bowl . . . Set a Senior Bowl record with four touchdown runs . . . Pro Career: Is one of the NFL's most exciting offensive weapons who continually amazes crowds with spectacular, often acrobatic, catches . . . His unlikely story began in '83 when he made the Chiefs squad as an undrafted rookie free agent . . . In just six NFL seasons, he is already ranked fourth on the club's career touchdown list with 42, ranks third in career receiving scores (42) and ranks fifth in career receiving yardage (4,450) . . . His 259 catches put him in sixth place on the team's all-time chart . . . At the end of his third year — his first three seasons were spent as a highly productive third-down receiver — he exploded for an NFL-record 309-yard receiving performance vs. San Diego (12/22/85) in the season finale . . . Went on to earn a starting job in '86 and has started 42 of 44 games since then . . . Enters '89 with a club-record 50-game consecutive catch streak, breaking Ed Podolak's old record of 44 last season . . . His 21 touchdown receptions from '85-86 were more than any other NFL player . . . Finds a way to get into the end zone as 16.2% of his receptions result in touchdowns, the fourth-highest average of any active player (with at least 200 receptions); trails Jerry Rice (18.6%), Mike Quick (17.0%) and Wesley Walker (16.5%) . . . Has six double-touchdown games to his credit . . . Durable performer has not missed a game during his previous six seasons, playing in 92 in a row . . . Has at least 30 catches, 500 yards and four touchdowns in all six pro seasons. 1988: Is coming off the most active season of his pro career, leading the Chiefs with 61 catches for 902 yards and seven touchdowns in '88 . . . Finished seventh in the AFC in receptions and eighth in receiving yardage . . . His 61 receptions set a career high and his 902 yards rank second to 943 in '85 . . . Broke Podolak's record of 44 straight games with a catch vs. Cincinnati (11/13), making four grabs for 71 yards and one touchdown; finished season with a string of 50 games with a catch . . . Broke the 4,000-yard receiving mark at Denver (11/6) . . . Had two 100-yard efforts in '88, giving him six for his career . . . Caught five passes for 106 yards vs. Seattle (11/20) and made four catches for 113 yards and two touchdowns in win over the Jets (12/4) . . . Tied career high with nine catches at Seattle (9/11); recorded 99 yards and a touchdown in the game . . . Was only Chiefs offensive player to start all 16 games. 1987: Finished second on team with 43 catches, 707 yards and four touchdowns . . . The four TD's made him the club's third-leading scorer in '87 but tied a personal low . . . Had two 100-yard outings in '87 . . . Caught five passes for 121 yards, including a 43-yard TD pass from Bill Kenney on a flea flicker, at Chicago (11/1) . . . Also had a season-long 51-yard reception in the game and the 121 yards were the second-most of his career . . . Finished the year with an eight-catch, 110-yard, one-TD performance vs. Seattle (12/27) . . . Had three other games over 75 yards . . . Injured his right foot vs. Raiders (12/13) and missed most of the game but returned the following week . . . Played in 12 games with 11 starts. 1986: Was his first year as a full-time starter and he finished as the team's leading receiver with a then career-most 52 receptions for 829 yards and a career-high 11 touchdowns . . . His 11

TD's tied Otis Taylor for the second-most in Chiefs history, one shy of Chris Burford's record 12 in '62 . . . Tied Mark Duper for third in NFL touchdown receptions behind Jerry Rice (15) and Wesley Walker (12) . . . Caught at least one TD pass in eight of the final 11 games, including two double-TD games (San Diego, 10/19 and St. Louis, 11/23) . . . Caught a career-most nine passes vs. Buffalo (11/30) and recorded the team's only 100-yard receiving performance of the season with 119 yards . . . Longest catch was a 51-yarder at Buffalo (9/28). 1985: Put his name with the legends of the game by recording the best receiving day in NFL history in the season finale with an amazing 309 yards on eight receptions at Arrowhead vs. the Chargers (12/22) . . . The old record of 303 yards had been set by Jim Benton of the Cleveland Rams in '45 . . . Surpassed the Chiefs record of 213 yards (Curtis McClinton, '65) in the second quarter and had 258 yards by halftime . . . Had first-half catches of 56 (TD), 51, 30, 17, 84 (TD, career high, KC's 6th-longest ever) and 20, along with second-half catches of 39 and the record-breaking 12-yarder . . . Thanks to his season-ending record total, he finished the year as the Chiefs leader in receiving yardage with 943 (ninth in AFC and 15th in NFL) and second in receptions with 43 (Carson had 47) . . . His 21.9-yard average per catch ranked first in the NFL among qualifying receivers . . . His 10 touchdown receptions were third-most in KC history . . . Played in all 16 games and started eight when injuries sidelined either Carson or Marshall. 1984: Matched his rookie season total of 30 receptions and upped his receiving yardage to 541 . . . Top yardage game again came in the season finale vs. San Diego (12/16), 84 yards on just two catches, one being a 65-yard TD grab that was the Chiefs longest reception of the year . . . Caught at least one pass in all but one game and that was at Denver (9/23) when he caught two passes that were ruled out of the end zone . . . Made his first NFL start in a Week 14 win over Denver (12/2) when the Chiefs opened in a three-wide receiver set . . . Also served as the primary kickoff return man in '84, compiling a 20.1 average on a team-high 27 returns. 1983: Posted one of the top rookie performances in the NFL in '83 . . . Saw limited action early in the season but came on strong in the second half and finished with 30 receptions for 528 yards, a team-leading 17.8 average, and six touchdowns . . . Only two other rookie wide receivers caught more passes that year — Chicago's Willie Gault and Detroit's Jeff Chadwick both had 40 . . . The 30 catches were the most by a Chiefs rookie WR since Burford's 46 in '60 . . . His first NFL reception came the fifth week vs. St. Louis (10/2), then he quickly came into his own . . . Finished the season strongly, making 17 receptions for 326 yards and five TD's in the final five games . . . Top game was at San Diego (12/11), when he caught five passes for 84 yards and two TD's . . . Made Chiefs squad as a rookie free agent.

College/Personal: Despite a productive two-year collegiate career at Fresno State, he was overshadowed by WR Henry Ellard, who was drafted in the second round by the Rams in '83 . . . Transferred from Saddleback (Cal.) Junior College, where he spent his first two years . . . Attended Long Beach (Cal.) Poly High School, where he played football, basketball and baseball . . . Majored in radio-television at Fresno State . . . Enjoys reading and working outdoors . . . Full name: Stephone Paige . . . Married, wife Paula, two children, Stephone II (4) and E'Lon (2).

Pro Career: Showed the ability to be an all-purpose back in second pro season last year . . . After seeing limited action on offense as a rookie, he became one of the club's most dangerous threats in '88 . . . Exciting performer has scored eight touchdowns during young career (two rushing, four receiving and two on kickoff returns) . . . Was the fourth running back taken in the '87 draft and the 19th overall selection . . . Has set Chiefs records as a receiver and a returner, and could break loose as a rusher in '89 . . . Set club season and career records as a rookie with two kickoff returns for a touchdown . . . Set a team single-season record for running backs with three 100-yard receiving games in '88. 1988: Was among the NFL's yards from scrimmage leaders for the first half of season before playing time was reduced with the return of Christian Okoye and Herman Heard from injured reserve . . . Finished season as the club's second-leading rusher (452 yards) and receiver (53 catches for 611 yards) . . . Was also the team's third-leading scorer with six touchdowns (two rushing and four receiving) . . . His 1,063 yards from scrimmage were the most for a Kansas City running back since Joe Delaney had 1,367 in '81 . . . His 53 catches were the fourth-most for a Chiefs back while his 611 receiving yards tied for the second-most with Johnny Robinson . . . His 53 grabs were also the fourth-most for a running back in the AFC . . . Played in 15 games and started the first 11 contests at halfback . . . Was suspended for Steelers game (11/27) for disciplinary reasons . . . Recorded over 100 yards from scrimmage in four games . . . Had three 100-yard receiving games in '88, setting a record for a Chiefs running back . . . There were only six 100-yard receiving games by backs in '88 and he had half of them . . . Had 198 total yards vs. Chargers (9/25), the most by a K.C. back since '81 (Delaney) . . . Set a personal high with eight catches (for 105 yards) at Seattle (9/11) . . . The next week he rushed for a career-high 80 yards on career-high 22 carries and caught seven passes for 84 yards and a touchdown vs. Denver (9/18) . . . Followed that up with five catches for a personal-best 122 yards and two touchdowns on five catches as well as 17 rushes for 76 yards vs. San Diego (9/25) . . . Caught a 71-yard touchdown bomb from Steve DeBerg vs. Chargers . . . Had 103 receiving yards and a score on five receptions vs. L.A. Raiders (10/16); had a kickoff return for a touchdown called back in the game . . . Made the longest touchdown run of career at San Diego (12/18) in the season finale, going 26 yards on one of his two totes that afternoon . . . Scored first career rushing touchdown in 21st NFL game at L.A. Raiders (10/30). 1987: Was the AFC's kickoff return leader with a 24.3-yard average, becoming the second player in Chiefs history to top that category (Dave Grayson led the AFL with a 28.3 mark in '61) . . . Set club records with two kickoff returns for touchdowns in a single season and career . . . Became just the ninth player in NFL history to return at least two kickoff returns for scores in his rookie season . . . Touchdowns came on a 95-yarder in the season-opener vs. San Diego (9/13) to provide the final points in a 20-13 victory and on a 92-yard burst in the season-finale vs. Seattle (12/27) in a 40-21 win . . . Tied a team and NFL record with nine kickoff returns at Seattle (9/20), matching Noland Smith (Chiefs '67) and Dino Hall (Browns '79) . . . Had 221 kickoff return yards in the game, the second-most in Chiefs history (Smith had 244 vs. SD, 10/15/67) . . . Finished the year with 38 returns (third in KC history) for 923 yards (second in KC history) . . . Owns the Chiefs record for single-game kickoff return average with a 44.3 average per return in the finale vs. Seattle (3-133) . . . Made Pro Football Weekly's All-AFC team and All-Rookie team as a kickoff returner . . . Carried the ball from scrimmage in eight games as a rookie, finishing as the team's third-leading rusher with 155 yards on 24 carries . . . Averaged 6.5 yards per carry, the best mark on the team for players with more than 20 attempts . . . Best game came in only start of season at Cincinnati (12/6), when he gained 41 yards on five totes in one half . . . Suffered a sprained right ankle when foot got caught in turf late in second quarter and did not return to the game . . . Broke off a 35-yard run vs. Bengals for his longest jaunt of the year.

Pro Career: Has been the Chiefs starting right cornerback since his first NFL game, despite arriving as a seventh-round draft choice in '84 . . . Tough, hard-hitting player who has been extremely productive in his five seasons, both on defense and special teams . . . Has made 17 interceptions and 459 tackles (341 unassisted) . . . Only Deron Cherry (570) has made more tackles in those five seasons and only Cherry (33) and Albert Lewis (18) have made more interceptions . . . Has scored three touchdowns in his career, one on an interception, one on a fumble return during a kickoff and another on a return of a blocked field goal . . . Has missed just two games in his five seasons, playing in 75 with 72 starts . . . His ferocious hits have become a trademark — possibly the hardest hitter for his size in the league — and although just 5-9, he owns speed that makes him a solid cover man . . . Has made over 90 tackles in four of his five previous seasons . . . Averages over six tackles a game. 1988: Turned in another solid sesaon, recording 99 tackles, one interception, three pass deflections and one forced fumble . . . His 99 tackles ranked third on the team and were the second-most of his career (had 111 in '85) . . . His one interception in '88 marked a career low . . . Missed one game (vs. Bengals, 11/13) and one start (vs. Seahawks, 11/20) with a right shoulder separation . . . Had two double-digit tackle outings and had at least eight stops on seven occasions . . . Made 10 tackles (six solos) at Seattle (9/11) and recorded a season-high 13 stops (10 solos) at N.Y. Jets (10/2) . . . Collected a team-high nine tackles against the Raiders (10/16) . . . Made lone interception, along with eight tackles, at Pittsburgh (11/27) . . . Corralled seven tackles and forced a fumble at N.Y. Giants (12/11).1987: His three thefts gave him a share of the club's interception crown (Cherry also had three) . . . Recorded 58 tackles, tying Lloyd Burruss for first among defensive backs and fourth on the team . . . Finished third on the club with seven deflected passes while forcing one fumble and making one sack . . . Had his third career two-interception game in a win over the Raiders (12/13) while also adding 10 tackles . . . Second interception of game came with 1:00 remaining in the fourth quarter and the Chiefs clinging to a 16-10 lead . . . His only other theft came against Denver (10/18) in the final replacement game . . . Scored his third career touchdown on a 65-yard return of a blocked field goal by Bill Maas at Cincinnati (12/6) which gave KC a 24-20 lead in an overtime loss . . . Recorded a sack in the season opener vs. San Diego (9/13) . . . Missed the first game of his pro career at Detroit (11/26) with a hip injury . . . Also missed a start against Pittsburgh (11/8) with the same ailment . . . Played in 12 games with 11 starts. 1986: Produced another all-around performance that included four interceptions, a team-leading three fumble recoveries and 93 tackles . . . His special teams contributions included deflecting a punt, tackling a punter before the kick, returning a fumbled kickoff 21 yards for a touchdown in a 42-41 win over San Diego (10/19) and 16 special teams tackles . . . Tied a career best by making two interceptions at the Raiders (12/14) in a key 20-17 win, including the game-clincher in the final two minutes . . . His 93 tackles led NFL cornerbacks, ranking fourth on the team, and his 76 solo stops were second on the squad . . . Posted a career-best 12 tackles at Seattle (9/14) and had 11 in finale at Pittsburgh (12/21) . . . Started all 16 games and the playoff contest. 1985: All three of his '85 interceptions came in the first three games, including the first double-theft effort of his pro career in a season-opening romp at New Orleans (9/8) . . . Finished second to Cherry in tackles with a career-most 111, including 81 unassisted stops . . . Had at least three tackles in every game and recorded three games of 10-or-more tackles . . . Played in all 16 games with 15 starts. 1984: Put together one of the most incredible rookie success stories in franchise history . . . Showed his competitive nature from the start of training camp and earned the starting right CB job by the regular season opener . . . Went on to make six interceptions, still a career high, and 98 tackles . . . Had a rocky beginning, having several long plays made against him by Pittsburgh wide receivers in the opener (9/2) . . . Proved his determination a week later by turning in a sterling performance at Cincinnati (9/9), making 10 tackles, forcing a fumble to set up a field goal and recovering a fumble deep in KC territory in the final minute to preserve a 27-22 Chiefs win . . . From then on, he was a key performer on the vastly-improved defense and was voted winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award (top Chiefs rookie honor) . . . His six interceptions tied him for third in KC history for thefts by a rookie (Bobby Hunt, eight in '62, Eric Harris, seven in '80 and David Webster, six in '60) . . . Ranked second to Cherry (seven) for the team lead and tied for fifth in the AFC and 11th in the NFL . . . Returned his first NFL interception 71 yards for a touchdown in the home opener against the Raiders (9/16) . . . His 98 tackles (77 unassisted) were the most by a Chiefs rookie since Gary Spani (144) and Art Still (120) in 1978 . . . Started all 16 games.

College/Personal: At Temple, he recorded 13 career interceptions and 249 tackles in four years . . . Picked off three passes as a senior and a career-most five (in seven games) as a junior . . . Attended Paulsboro (N.J.) High School, where he earned all-state honors as a linebacker and running back . . . Led Paulsboro to the state championship as a senior . . . Also competed in basketball and wrestling . . . Majored in business at Temple . . . Enjoys traveling and meeting people . . . Nicknamed "Rock" . . . Full name: Kevin Lesley Ross . . . Married, wife Sheila, two daughters, Celia (5) and Cherrelle (1).

CHIEFS RADIO NETWORK

For the 27th consecutive season, all Chiefs games will be carried live on 81/KCMO Radio. KCMO has been the Chiefs anchor station for play-by-play coverage since the franchise moved to Kansas City in 1963. The station now handles the Chiefs Radio Network, a 50-plus station network that covers the five-state region of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Oklahoma, including KUSA in St. Louis. The network's broadcast team of Kevin Harlan, Len Dawson and Bill Grigsby are in their fifth season together. Harlan handles the play-by-play for the fifth straight year, while Hall of Fame quarterback Len Dawson, the Chiefs all-time leading passer, and Bill Grigsby, who has been on the Chiefs broadcast team since the club's first year in Kansas City, provide the expert commentary.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN 1989

SS LLOYD BURRUSS

To move into the Chiefs Top 10 interception list with three more interceptions. He has 19 and his 22nd will tie him with Albert Lewis for 10th place.

WR CARLOS CARSON

To become the Chiefs all-time leader in receptions and receiving yards. He needs 71 more catches to break Henry Marshall's record of 416 and 1,042 receiving yards to surpass Otis Taylor's record of 7,306.

Needs 55 catches to become third Chiefs player to amass 400 career receptions: Henry Marshall (416) and Otis Taylor (410).

Needs 735 receiving yards to become second Chief (Otis Taylor, 7,306) to collect 7,000 career receiving yards.

FS DERON CHERRY

To become the third Chiefs defender to record 50 career interceptions. Needs nine more to join Emmitt Thomas (58) and Johnny Robinson (57).

To move up on the club's all-time fumble recovery list. He enters '89 with 12 career fumble recoveries, tying him for fourth place with Art Still. He trails Bobby Bell (15), Willie Lanier (15) and Jim Lynch (14).

To earn a trip to his seventh Pro Bowl, breaking the club record of six he shares with Willie Lanier.

QB STEVE DeBERG

To play in his 150th NFL game. He enters '89 with 140.

To complete his 2,000th pass (he needs 78); to record his 25,000th passing yard (he needs 2,483); and throw his 150th touchdown pass (he needs 18).

To enter the NFL's all-time Top 20 in passes completed. He enters '89 with 1,922 and needs 90 to pass Archie Manning (2,011) and take over 20th place. He could also surpass Terry Bradshaw (19th — 2,025), Joe Theismann (18th — 2,044), Craig Morton (17th 2,053), Len Dawson (16th — 2,136) and Ron Jaworski (15th — 2,151).

To enter the NFL's all-time Top 20 in passes attempted. He begins '89 with 3,411 and needs 291 attempts to pass Jim Plunkett (3,701) for sole possession of 20th place. He could also move ahead of Len Dawson (19th — 3,741), Joe Namath (18th — 3,762), Craig Morton (17th — 3,786) and Ken Stabler (16th — 3,793).

LB DINO HACKETT

To record his fourth straight 100-tackle season.

RB HERMAN HEARD

To move up on the Chiefs all-time rushing list. He enters '89 as the team's sixth-leading all-time rusher with 2,478 yards. He has a chance to overtake Wendell Hayes (2,560) for fifth place and Curtis McClinton (3,124) for fourth place.

CHIEFS 1988 GAME SUMMARIES

GAME 1 — BROWNS 6, CHIEFS 3 at Arrowhead (55,654)

In a game that might go down as one of the best defensive efforts in team history, the Chiefs had to swallow a heartbreaking 6-3 loss to the Browns when Matt Bahr drilled a 38-yard field goal with just 25 seconds remaining. The loss snapped a five-game winning streak for the Chiefs on Opening Day, the longest in the NFL, and it did just the opposite for the Browns, who had lost five straight openers. The Chiefs defense could not have been asked to do more. Despite giving up 337 yards, it shut the Browns out of the end zone the entire afternoon. Cleveland entered KC territory nine times during the game, but scored just two field goals. And the Chiefs hard-hitting defenders knocked five Cleveland Pro Bowl performers out of the game, including QB Bernie Kosar. The Chiefs scored first after blocking a Cleveland field goal attempt, with Nick Lowery connecting on a 33-yard three-pointer with 3:11 left in the first half. That came after a TD pass from Bill Kenney to Emile Harry was called back by an illegal formation penalty because David Lutz had lined up too far off the line of scrimmage. The Browns tied the score when Bahr chipped in a 19-yarder on the final play of the half. Both defenses prevailed throughout the second half until the final drive when the Browns took over on their own seven-yard line and marched 72 yards for the winning field goal.

GAME 2 — SEAHAWKS 31, CHIEFS 10 at Seattle (61,512)

Another trip to the Kingdome, and another loss for the Chiefs. For the sixth straight year, the Chiefs left Seattle on the short end, dropping a 31-10 bout to the Seahawks. The Chiefs were determined to make this trip to Seattle different and it looked in the early going like it might be the year to break the streak. A goal line stand by the Chiefs defense held the Seahawks to a field goal, then after the Chiefs forced a turnover on a Seattle punt attempt, Nick Lowery connected on a 27-yard three-pointer to tie the score at 3-3 heading into the second quarter. But the second period proved deadly for the Chiefs, who saw the Seahawks score four touchdowns in a nine-minute span. Two Curt Warner TD runs, a 17-yard pass from Dave Krieg to rookie Brian Blades that was set up by an interception, and a fumble recovery in the end zone by Jacob Green after he had sacked Bill Kenney, put the game nearly out of reach, 31-3, by halftime. Steve DeBerg took over at quarterback for the Chiefs in the second half and led the team to its first touchdown of the year, a 15-yard toss to Stephone Paige. DeBerg set Chiefs records for a half with his 38 pass attempts and 22 completions. Palmer became a major part of the offense, leading the team with 44 rushing yards on 14 attempts and 105 receiving yards on eight receptions.

GAME 3 — CHIEFS 20, BRONCOS 13 at Arrowhead (63,268)

The Chiefs needed a spark, and Steve DeBerg, making his debut as starting quarterback, ignited the entire team as the Chiefs responded with a 20-13 victory over the defending AFC Champion Denver Broncos at Arrowhead. It may have been the best all-around performance – combining offense, defense and special teams – since Frank Gansz became head coach in '87. DeBerg engineered a ball-control offense that rolled up 380 total yards and kept the ball nearly 36 minutes. The defense shut down Denver's two biggest offensive weapons – John Elway and Tony Dorsett – and forced three turnovers, including two interceptions by Deron Cherry. And the special teams kept the Chiefs in favorable field position and Nick Lowery nailed two field goals, including his 15th career 50-yarder. The two teams traded field goals in the first quarter, then DeBerg hit Carlos Carson on a six-yard touchdown pass and Dorsett capped a 75-yard Denver drive with an eight yard TD run to tie the score, 10-10, at halftime. The Chiefs re-gained the lead for good in the third quarter when DeBerg lofted a 14-yard pass to Paul Palmer, capping a 14-play, 77-yard drive. The Broncos narrowed the margin to 17-13 when Rick Karlis hit a 42-yard field goal with 9:34 left in the game, but the Chiefs took the ensuing kickoff and marched downfield for a 29-yard Lowery field goal with just 3:47 remaining. Denver's last gasp was smothered when the Chiefs defense held on fourth down at the KC 30-yard line. DeBerg finished the game by completing 21 of 35 passes for 259 yards and two touchdowns and was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week. Palmer put together the best day of his young career with 80 rushing yards on 22 carries and 84 receiving yards on seven receptions.

GAME 4 — CHARGERS 24, CHIEFS 23 at Arrowhead (45,498)

Heartbreakers don't come any harder than this. The Chiefs saw victory slip away when a San Diego touchdown pass with 52 seconds left in the game after a controversial penalty nullified a game-clinching interception.

The end result was a 24-23 Chargers triumph at Arrowhead. The key play came when Dino Hackett picked off a Babe Laufenberg pass at the KC two-yard line, but fellow linebacker Tim Cofield was called for a roughing-the-passer penalty that was termed not as a late hit, but rather as "extra activity." That gave San Diego new life, a first-and-goal at the four, and two plays later Laufenberg swung a pass to Lionel James who dove into the end zone for the winning score. That series of events erased a sizeable comeback for the Chiefs, who had scored 23 unanswered points. Kansas City fell to a 14-0 deficit in the first quarter, but three Steve DeBerg touchdown passes and a safety by Bill Maas gave the Chiefs a nine-point lead heading into the final period. Two of the TD tosses went to Paul Palmer, who rolled up 198 combined yards by catching five passes for 122 yards and rushing 17 times for 76 yards. Palmer's first TD catch went for 71 yards, the longest reception by a KC running back since 1963. The second came off a tipped pass intended for Stephone Paige. In between those two scores, Paige snatched a two-yard pass from DeBerg, who finished with 261 yards on 20 of 38 accuracy. Most of San Diego's damage was done by Gary Anderson, who rushed for 131 yards on 23 carries.

GAME 5 — CHIEFS 17, JETS 17 (OT) at Giants Stadium (66,110)

A wild game with some strange twists resulted in a 17-17 overtime tie for the Chiefs and Jets, who battled for three hours and 49 minutes in front of a sellout crowd at Giants Stadium. To gain the tie, the Chiefs made a miraculous comeback after falling behind by two touchdowns early in the fourth quarter. Johnny Hector's second TD of the afternoon on the first play of the fourth period gave the Jets a 17-3 lead, but on the next play following the ensuing kickoff, Steve DeBerg threw a short pattern to Carlos Carson, who eluded a tackle and sped 80 yards for the score. Then with four minutes left in regulation, DeBerg engineered the Chiefs on a 13-play, 80-yard drive that culminated with a eight-yard TD pass to Emile Harry on third-and-goal with just 51 seconds left. Harry had caught two third-down passes on that drive and finished the day with a career-best six catches for 87 yards. In the overtime period, the Chiefs defense stopped the Jets in KC territory on all three possessions. The first time, Pat Leahy missed on a 44-yard field goal attempt just moments after a driving rainstorm began. On their second possession, the Jets drove to the KC 15-yard line, but instead of going for the field goal, Joe Walton elected one more running play and Freeman McNeil fumbled, which was recovered by Tim Cofield. Their final try ended at the KC 34-yard line when the Jets couldn't get lined up for a field goal before time expired. The closest the Chiefs got in the OT period was to the Jets 39 on the first possession. The game marked the return of RB's Christian Okoye and Herman Heard from injured reserve.

GAME 6 — OILERS 7, CHIEFS 6 at Houston (39,134)

The Chiefs incredible string of close games continued as the Chiefs dropped a one-point decision for the second time in three weeks, 7-6 to the Oilers. A lackluster offensive performance prevented the Chiefs from attaining their first road win of the season, as the Chiefs failed to reach the end zone for the second time of the season. Two Nick Lowery field goals gave the Chiefs a 6-0 halftime lead. The first one, a 28-yarder, came on Kansas City's first possession of the game. Then midway through the second quarter, Lowery connected on his 16th career field goal over 50 yards when he nailed a 51-yarder. The Chiefs defense, despite having problems with the Oilers running attack, totally shut down Houston's air attack, especially when Brent Pease had to relieve the injured Cody Carlson, who was playing for injured Warren Moon. But Pease scored the winning touchdown on a four-yard bootleg run late in the third period. The Chiefs were driving for a winning field goal in the fourth quarter, but after reaching the Oiler 32-yard line, two penalties on the offensive line, followed by an interception, destroyed the scoring opportunity. The Chiefs held Houston to four pass completions and made three interceptions, but allowed 206 rushing yards, including 141 to Mike Rozier. The KC offense managed just 184 total yards.

GAME 7 — RAIDERS 27, CHIEFS 17 at Arrowhead (77,078)

The Chiefs returned home after two weeks on the road to the sixth-largest crowd in Arrowhead Stadium history (77,078), but were outplayed by the Raiders and dropped a 27-17 verdict. Turnovers and time of possession were the story in this game. The Chiefs turned the ball over four times and were in possession of the football 16 minutes less than the Raiders. With the services of baseball/football star Bo Jackson for the first time in the '88 season, the Raiders jumped up 14-0 on the Chiefs before Steve DeBerg could find running back Paul Palmer across the middle for a 48-yard touchdown strike that brought Kansas City to within a touchdown by halftime. Placekicker Nick Lowery connected on a 43-yard field goal with just four seconds elapsed in the final quarter to move the Chiefs to within four points at 14-10, but Los Angeles scored two unanswered touchdowns in a five-minute span to put the ballgame out of reach at 27-10. DeBerg found Stephone Paige for a 25-yard TD pass late in the game for the 27-17 final. The Chiefs outgained the Raiders, 334-233, but LA took advantage of the Chiefs miscues with touchdown drives of 27, 47 and 60 yards. Palmer had his third 100-yard receiving day, gaining 103 yards on five receptions.

GAME 8 — LIONS 7, CHIEFS 6 at Arrowhead (66,926)

For the third time of the season, the Chiefs registered a one-point loss, this one a 7-6 decision to the Detroit Lions in front of Kansas City's second consecutive sellout crowd. It was a game dominated by both defenses, as the final score indicated. The Chiefs were held to just 215 total yards of offense, while the Lions managed only 238. Kansas City struck first in this contest on a 38-yard Nick Lowery field goal which gave the Chiefs a 3-0 lead early in the second quarter. However, Detroit, who started quarterback Rusty Hilger in place of the injured Chuck Long, scored the winning touchdown just before halftime. A 43-yard Nick Lowery field goal moved the Chiefs to within one at 7-6 early in the third quarter, however, the Chiefs failed to capitalize on opportunities following that to take a lead. They could have had a chance for a long field goal on the last play of the game, but Christian Okoye couldn't get out of bounds on a pass play at the KC 44-yard line as time expired. The Chiefs defense again played well enough to win, holding the Lions to 215 total yards and forcing three turnovers, but the offense could muster just 171 yards of its own.

GAME 9 — RAIDERS 17, CHIEFS 10 at Los Angeles (36,103)

The Chiefs and Raiders collided for the second time in just three weeks and the outcome was very similar to the first meeting, as K.C. lost 17-10. The Chiefs inability to establish a passing game played a major role in the defeat. Combined efforts of Kansas City quarterbacks Bill Kenney and Steve DeBerg totaled only 63 net yards of passing. While the Chiefs struggled offensively, Raiders quarterback Steve Beuerlein, starting in place of the ineffective Jay Schroeder, enjoyed a productive afternoon, completing 18 of 29 passes for 248 yards. In addition, the star-studded running back corps of Bo Jackson and Marcus Allen combined for 150 yards on the ground, each punching in a touchdown. The Raiders were first on the scoreboard when Jackson broke several tackles over the middle en route to a 22-yard touchdown midway through the first period. The Chiefs struck back in the second quarter when Paul Palmer rushed around the right side for a three yard TD, capping a 15-play, 74-yard, nine-minute drive. But the Raiders came right back, going 67 yards with Allen diving over from one yard out for a 14-7 halftime lead. Both defenses took over in the second half, each team notching field goals in the fourth quarter for the only scoring. DeBerg replaced Kenney in the fourth quarter and led the team to a field goal in his only possession, but the Raiders ran out the final 3:08.

GAME 10 — BRONCOS 17, CHIEFS 11 at Denver (74,227)

The Chiefs were looking for a season sweep of the Broncos, but instead came away from Mile High Stadium with an all-too-familiar close loss. The final was 17-11, the seventh time in '88 the Chiefs dropped a game by a touchdown or less. And again, the team had several opportunities to grasp victory. The Chiefs marched downfield with the opening kickoff, but Bill Kenney threw an interception at the one-yard line to thwart the drive. However, on Denver's first play, Dino Hackett tackled Tony Dorsett in the end zone on a sweep play and the Chiefs took a 2-0 lead. The Broncos scored two second-quarter touchdowns before Nick Lowery kicked the first of three field goals to make it 14-5 at halftime. The Chiefs first drive of the second half again looked promising, but on a second-and-six play at the Denver eight-yard line, Paul Palmer tripped and fumbled on a halfback option play with James Saxon wide open in the end zone. After two Nick Lowery field goals, the Chiefs still had a shot when Denver's bad snap on a field goal try gave the Chiefs the ball at the KC 37 with 4:48 remaining. But three plays and a punt gave the ball back to the Broncos, who ran out the final 4:01 on the clock.

GAME 11 — CHIEFS 31, BENGALS 28 at Arrowhead (34,614)

Yes, it was another down-to-the-wire game for the Chiefs. However, this time the Chiefs rose to the occasion and put an end to their seven-game winless streak. Nick Lowery nailed a 39-yard field goal with just two seconds remaining in the game to give the Chiefs a 31-28 triumph over the powerful Cincinnati Bengals. The Bengals invaded Arrowhead with the NFL's second-best record at 8-2 and the No. 1-ranked offense. But the Chiefs were sparked by their best offensive performance of the year (418 yards), a gutsy defensive effort without Bill Maas, Lloyd Burruss and Kevin Ross, and big plays by the special teams in the final six minutes. The big key was keeping the Bengals offense off the field, which the Chiefs did by maintaining the ball 38:16 compared to Cincy's 21:44. Kansas City had three long drives in the first half, including an incredible 22-play, 87-yard march that took 12:15 off the clock, but all three resulted in field goals and the Chiefs trailed 14-9 at halftime. In the third quarter, Boomer Esiason scored on a five-yard scramble, the Chiefs came back with Steve DeBerg hitting Stephone Paige for a 17-yard score, then Stanford Jennings took the ensuing kickoff and raced 98 yards for a TD, giving the Bengals a 28-16 lead. But the Chiefs scored the final 15 points of the game. Lowery's fourth field goal cut the margin to nine points heading into the final period. With 6:06 remaining, Albert Lewis blocked a punt out of the end zone for a safety and the Chiefs took the ensuing free kick and drove 64 yards in 12 plays with Christian Okoye diving over from one yard out for the tying score with 1:11 left. On the next kickoff, James Saxon stripped Marc Logan of the ball and Lewis fell on it at the Cincy 28. Three running plays brought Lowery onto the field for his fifth field goal of the afternoon.

GAME 12 — CHIEFS 27, SEAHAWKS 24 at Arrowhead (33,152)

For the second straight week, Nick Lowery's last-minute heroics gave the Chiefs a three point win over a division leader. This time, Lowery booted a 40-yard field goal with just 46 seconds remaining for a 27-24 victory over the Seahawks. His game-winning kick capped a 13-play, 51-yard drive that included three third-down conversions after the Seahawks had tied the score with 4:20 left in the game. The Chiefs used a hard-nosed running attack to take control of the game, rushing for 162 yards and scoring three rushing touchdowns (first time in 58 games). Herman Heard, getting his first start of the season for the injured Paul Palmer, gained 84 yards on 16 carries, and Christian Okoye added 52 yards on 17 totes. The offensive line also had perfect protection for Steve DeBerg, who threw for 203 yards and wasn't sacked. The Chiefs took a 14-0 lead on a pair of two-yard TD runs by James Saxon and Okoye in the first half. After a Dave Krieg to Ray Butler 12-yard TD pass, the Seahawks tied the score for the first time early in the third quarter when Terry Taylor picked off a DeBerg pass and returned it 27 yards for a 14-14 count. The Chiefs then scored 10 points off turnovers, as an interception by Jayice Pearson set up a 34-yard Lowery field goal, then a fumbled snap on a Seattle punt set up a one-yard bootleg TD by DeBerg, making it 24-14 early in the fourth period. Again Seattle came back, scoring 10 points on their next two possessions before the Chiefs final drive. The victory extended Kansas City's domination over Seattle at Arrowhead to seven straight games.

GAME 13 — STEELERS 16, CHIEFS 10 at Pittsburgh (42,057)

The Chiefs tried their last-minute magic for the third straight week, but it disappeared. Driving to the Steelers 14-yard line with 10 seconds left, the Chiefs had two chances for a game-winning touchdown, but both of Steve DeBerg's passes fell incomplete in the end zone and Kansas City dropped a 16-10 decision at Three Rivers Stadium. DeBerg had led the Chiefs from their own 30 in the final two minutes. The Chiefs could have won the game with a field goal on the final drive if a touchdown with about seven minutes remaining hadn't been called back due to an illegal motion penalty. That negated a three-yard TD run by James Saxon and the Chiefs had to settle for a 26-yard Nick Lowery field goal, meaning they had to score a touchdown to win the game. The Steelers jumped out to a 6-0 lead on two first-quarter field goals by Gary Anderson. The Chiefs took their only lead of the game midway through the second frame when DeBerg hit Stephone Paige on a fade pattern for a four-yard TD, capping a 14-play, 74-yard drive. But Pittsburgh regained the lead before the half when a 62-yard drive culminated with a 10-yard burst by Merril Hoge. The Steelers extended the lead to 16-7 on Anderson's third field goal late in the third quarter. After Lowery's field goal cut the gap to 16-10, the Chiefs got their final chance when a 47-yard field goal attempt by Anderson hit the left upright with 1:59 left in the game. The Chiefs offense accumulated 366 yards, its third straight week over 350, despite missing the services of Paul Palmer, who was suspended prior to the game.

GAME 14 — CHIEFS 38, JETS 34 at Arrowhead (30,059)

If you like drama and suspense, a better script couldn't have been written. On the last play from scrimmage, facing a fourth-and-goal at the one-yard line, the Chiefs closed the curtain on a fierce comeback when rookie RB James Saxon stretched into the end zone on a gallant second effort, giving KC a 38-34 triumph over the Jets. The game-winning plunge came after three straight running plays failed to get the ball in the end zone in the waning seconds after a pass interference penalty had given the Chiefs first down with 56 seconds remaining. It capped a 14-play, 68-yard drive that ate up all but two seconds of the final 2:57. The Chiefs comeback began with 8:02 left in the game after New York's Johnny Hector had scored his second touchdown of the game on a one-yard run, giving the Jets a 34-24 lead. Behind Steve DeBerg, the Chiefs took the ensuing kickoff and marched 70 yards in just six plays, highlighted by a 36-yard completion to Paul Palmer and another pass interference call in the end zone which set up Christian Okoye's one-yard run with 5:22 remaining to tie the score. The Kansas City defense then held the Jets to three plays and a punt, setting the scene for the final drive. The game ended on a wild kickoff return episode, where the Jets lateraled, batted and fumbled their way to the NY 39, with the ball changing hands among Jets players 12 times. The Chiefs scored the game's first two touchdowns and held a 21-20 halftime advantage on the strength of three DeBerg TD passes, a 40-yarder to Carlos Carson and 41- and 33-yarders to Stephone Paige. The Chiefs piled up season offensive highs with 430 yards, including 163 rushing.

GAME 15 — GIANTS 28, CHIEFS 12 at Giants Stadium (69,807)

The Chiefs and Giants scored the same number of times, but the playoff-bound NFC East leaders produced four touchdowns while the Chiefs settled for four field goals. The result was a 28-12 New York victory on a blustery day at the Meadowlands. The Chiefs trailed by just two points entering the fourth quarter, 14-12, but the Giants took control and scored two rushing touchdowns to notch the win. With the wind playing a major factor, both defenses dominated the first half of play as the Giants took a 7-3 lead. A 12-yard pass from Phil Simms to TE Mark Bavaro put New York on the scoreboard first and Nick Lowery countered with a 31-yard field goal with 17 seconds left in the half. In the third quarter, Lowery closed the gap to 7-6 on a 51-yard field goal before another Simms-to-Bavaro pass gave the Giants a 14-6 advantage. Two more Lowery three-pointers, from 46 and 41 yards, put the Chiefs back in contention, but the Giants held the ball for all but 2:24 of the final stanza and scored twice to ice the game. For the fifth straight game, the Chiefs outdistanced their opponent, 258 yards to 244. However, 159 of New York's yards came on the ground, including 140 from Joe Morris.

GAME 16 — CHARGERS 24, CHIEFS 13 at San Diego (26,339)

The Chiefs had never lost a season finale in the '80 decade, but even the team's strong tradition in season-ending games wasn't enough for the '88 squad to gain a road victory. The Chargers, behind the unstoppable running of Gary Anderson, notched a 24-13 victory over Kansas City, ending the Chiefs NFL-long, eight-game winning streak in season finales and keeping the team winless on the road in '88, the first time in franchise history. The Chiefs opened the game with two long touchdown drives, but were shut out the rest of the way. They took the opening kickoff and zipped 80 yards in just four plays with Paul Palmer scoring on a 26-yard scamper around left end. After the Chargers tied the game on Anderson's nine-yard TD run, the Chiefs drove 75 yards in 12 plays, capped by Jonathan Hayes' first TD catch of the year, a four-yarder from Steve DeBerg. That gave the Chiefs a 13-7 lead (extra point failed), but from there on out it was all Anderson and San Diego. The Chargers scored 10 more points before halftime, taking a 17-13 lead, then broke the game open when Jamie Holland took the second half kickoff and flew 94 yards for the final touchdown. The Chiefs offense had the ball just four times the entire second half and crossed midfield three times, but couldn't score. The defense was threaded by Anderson, who set San Diego records with 217 yards rushing on 34 carries.

Indicates Future Choice

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN 1989

QB RON JAWORSKI

To move up on the NFL's all-time completions chart. He begins '89 in 15th place with 2,151. Just ahead of him are Ken Stabler (14th — 2,270), Norm Snead (13th — 2,276), Joe Montana (12th — 2,322), Joe Furgeson (11th — 2,323) and John Hadl (10th — 2,363).

To move up on the NFL's all-time pass attempts list. He enters '89 with 4,056 which puts him in 13th place. He could bypass Sonny Jurgensen (12th — 4,262), Norm Snead (11th — 4,353) and Y.A. Tittle (10th — 4,395).

To move up on the league's all-time passing yardage list. He enters the season in 17th position with 27,805 yards. Just in front of him are Craig Morton (16th — 27,908), Ken Stabler (15th — 27,938), Terry Bradshaw (14th — 27,989), Len Dawson (13th — 28,711), Joe Furgeson (12th — 29,263), Roman Gabriel (11th — 29,444) and Norm Snead (10th — 30,797).

To move into the Top 20 in career touchdown passes. Enters '89 with 177 and needs 13 more to tie Joe Montana (190) for 20th place. Bob Griese is next up with 192.

CB ALBERT LEWIS

To move up on the Chiefs all-time interception list. He is currently in 10th place with 22. Ahead of him are Jim Kearney (23), Gary Green (24), Bobby Bell (26) and Willie Lanier (27).

To increase his team-record of four career blocked punts.

K NICK LOWERY

To become the most accurate field goal kicker in NFL history. His FG% of 77.91% (201-258) trails the 78.24% (151-193) of the Saints Morten Andersen.

To become the most accurate PAT kicker in NFL history. If he makes his next 45 PAT's he will surpass NFL-record holder Tommy Davis (99.43%, 348-350). Lowery begins '89 at 99.35% (304-306).

To become the sole holder in the NFL for most career field goals of 50 yards or more. He and Jan Stenerud share the record with 17 apiece.

To score his 1,000th career point, a feat just 14 NFL players have achieved. He enters the year with 907 which puts him in 18th place all-time. He stands to move ahead of several players on the NFL's all-time scoring list: Lou Michaels (17th — 955), Rafael Septien (16th — 960), Sam Baker (15th — 977) and Bruce Gossett (14th — 1,031).

To continue his string of consecutive PAT's made. He enters the season with 172 in a row, and could jump up to the second-longest streak ever. The third-longest was done by George Blanda (201) and the second-longest by Jim Turner (221). The NFL record is held by Tommy Davis at 234.

1962 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
DALLAS at HOUSTON
December 23, 1962

A contest that moved the infant American Football League into the national consciousness proved to be the first of three AFL titles for Hank Stram's Texans/Chiefs.

Following second place finishes in each of the league's first two seasons, the Texans ran away with the AFL West championship in 1962. Dallas finished 11-3, a full four games in front, and was matched with the Houston Oilers, also 11-3, who had won the AFL title in 1960 and '61 over the Los Angeles, then San Diego Chargers.

The Texans, paced by a pair of touchdowns from Abner Haynes, took a 17-0 halftime advantage. Haynes scored first on a 28-yard pass from Len Dawson and then on a two-yard run after Tommy Brooker had given Dallas a 3-0 first-quarter advantage with a 16-yard field goal.

But the momentum quickly shifted to the Oilers in the second half. George Blanda, then a "young" 35-year-old, passed 15 yards to Willard Dewveall for a touchdown and kicked a 31-yard field goal before Charley Tolar burst over from the one to tie the game at 17-17 in the fourth quarter.

The two teams then went into the first sudden death overtime in AFL annals. The Texans won the toss and Stram elected to kick off, maintaining his defense could hold the Oilers long enough for Dawson to get the ball in good field position. Herein came the famous "kick to the clock" episode in which Texans captain Haynes inadvertantly elected for his team to kick into the wind instead of having it as the consolation for not receiving the football.

Neither club mounted a serious challenge in the early stages of overtime, but as the fifth quarter was drawing to a close, Dallas defensive end Bill Hull intercepted a Blanda pass and returned to midfield. Dawson then passed to Jack Spikes for 10 yards. Spikes, the game's most valuable player, ran for 19 and the Texans were in field goal range. At the 2:54 mark of the sixth quarter, Brooker kicked a 25-yard field goal to give the Texans a 20-17 victory and the American Football League championship. The game lasted 77 minutes and 54 seconds and would be the longest in pro football history until the Chiefs and Miami Dolphins played over 82 minutes nearly a decade later in 1971.

1966 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
KANSAS CITY at BUFFALO
January 1, 1967

With a berth in Super Bowl I as the prize, the Chiefs visited ancient War Memorial Stadium for a New Year's Day clash with the defending AFL champion Buffalo Bills.

The game, played in frigid, sub-zero temperatures, produced its first break on the opening kickoff. Jerrel Wilson recovered a Bills fumble on the Buffalo 31-yard line. Three plays later, Len Dawson passed 29 yards to Fred Arbanas for the first touchdown and a 7-0 Kansas City lead.

Buffalo, though, tied the game near the end of the opening period when Jack Kemp hit Elbert Dubenion on a 69-yard pass play. Few thought it would be the Bills final score of the day.

The Chiefs defense stiffened and Dawson led the offense to 10 second-quarter points. Otis Taylor caught a 29-yard touchdown pass and Mike Mercer added a 32-yard field goal, aided by a 72-yard pass interception by Johnny Robinson.

Mike Garrett then applied the coup de grace for the Chiefs by scoring on runs of one and 18 yards. Kansas City won its second AFL title in four years and awaited the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl I.

SUPER BOWL I
KANSAS CITY vs. GREEN BAY
January 15, 1967

Representing themselves and the American Football League in the first championship match with the National Football League, the Chiefs played well for one half before bowing to the supremacy of the Green Bay Packers.

Vince Lombardi's Packers, one of the great pro football teams of all time, won Super Bowl I by a 35-10 score. But the Packers held a slim 14-10 advantage at the half before the game turned on one play in the third quarter.

Green Bay opened the scoring when Bart Starr passed 37 yards to Max McGee, McGee making a remarkable one-handed catch for the touchdown. Len Dawson tied the game for the Chiefs when he passed to Curtis McClinton for a second period touchdown. The Packers then went back on top, 14-7, before Mike Mercer kicked a 31-yard field goal just before the half ended.

The Chiefs momentum carried over into the third quarter as Kansas City moved to a first down on its initial possession. But then the game's key play, one that doomed the underdog Chiefs, unfolded when Willie Wood intercepted a Dawson pass intended for Fred Arbanas at midfield. Wood returned all the way to the Chiefs 5-yard line, where Elijah Pitts ran for a third Green Bay touchdown and an insurmountable 21-10 lead.

1969 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
KANSAS CITY at OAKLAND
January 4, 1970

On the day the American Football League played the final game of its 10-year history, the Kansas Chiefs became the only three-time AFL champion. The Chiefs, through a curious playoff system, played their Western Division rivals, the Oakland Raiders, for the league's last title. Oakland, which had won the AFL West and held a pair of regular season wins over the Chiefs, went down to a 17-7 defeat.

The contest, unlike other Raiders-Chiefs matchups, was marked by turnovers. The two clubs managed one first-half touchdown apiece. Oakland's came on a three-yard run by Charlie Smith, Kansas City responding with a one-yard plunge by Wendell Hayes after Len Dawson had hit on passes of 14 yards to Otis Taylor and 41 yards to Frank Pitts.

In the third quarter, George Blanda twice missed field goal attempts that would have moved Oakland in front. Midway through the period, Kansas City mounted a drive from its own 2-yard line, the field position a result of a fumble which luckily was recovered before it bounded into the end zone. Dawson and Taylor pulled Kansas City out of the hole with a 35-yard pass and run play. Robert Holmes added 23 more on a flare pass in the left flat and then scored the go-ahead touchdown five plays later.

At this point the game became a defensive struggle. Led by defensive charges from the entire front four of Aaron Brown, BuckBuchanan, Curley Culp and Jerry Mays, the Chiefs continually harassed Raiders quarterback Daryle Lamonica. But the turnovers which would plaque both teams were only beginning.

In the fourth quarter, turnovers gave Oakland the football three times in Kansas City territory. Three times the Chiefs responded with interceptions, one each by Jim Marsalis, Jim Kearney and Emmitt Thomas. Thomas' steal was his second of the day and covered 62 yards to the Oakland 18-yard line. Jan Stenerud's field goal provided a 17-7 lead and a return to the Super Bowl.

SUPER BOWL IV
KANSAS CITY vs. MINNESOTA
January 11, 1970

Kansas City's finest sports hour concluded at 5:20 in the afternoon of Sunday, January 11, 1970, when the Chiefs defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 23-7, for the world championship of pro football.

The Chiefs, who finished 11-3 on the season and defeated the New York Jets and Oakland in the playoffs, closed out their first decade as the outstanding team in the American Football League which, with Super Bowl IV, came to an end. Beginning in 1970, the two leagues merged, with the AFL becoming the American Football Conference of the NFL.

Minnesota, a prohibitive favorite, was 12-2 during the regular season and at one point had won 12 games in succession.

The Chiefs took an early lead when Jan Stenerud kicked a 48-yard first quarter field goal. Stenerud's kick remains a Super Bowl record. He then followed with field goals of 32 and 25 yards for a 9-0 lead.

Kansas City received the first break in the game when the Vikings Charlie West fumbled a kickoff and Remi Prudhomme recovered at the Minnesota 19-yard line. After an eight-yard loss, Len Dawson handed off to Wendell Hayes, who rambled for 13 yards up the middle on a draw play. A 10-yard pass to Otis Taylor gave the Chiefs a first down at the four. Three plays later, Mike Garrett burst off-tackle for the touchdown. The Chiefs held a 16-0 halftime lead, stunning the Vikings and a nationwide television audience.

Minnesota mounted a mild third-quarter comeback when Dave Osborn scored from four yards out to cut the margin to 16-7. But any hopes the Vikings had of getting closer were dashed by Otis Taylor, who lived up to his big-play reputation repeatedly through that season.

Dawson hit Taylor on a short hitch pattern, but when Earsell Mackbee missed the inital tackle, Taylor was loose down the right sideline, highstepping his way to a 46-yard touchdown. After three quarters, the Chiefs again held a 16-point lead.

As was so often the case in 1969, the defense came to the fore. Minnesota had the ball three times in the final period and, as in the Oakland game the previous week, the Chiefs snuffed out all three chances with interceptions. Middle linebacker Willie Lanier picked off a Joe Kapp pass to halt a rally at the Chiefs 34-yard line. Later on, Johnny Robinson, playing with what turned out to be three broken ribs, grabbed another errant Kapp throw. In the game's closing minutes, Emmitt Thomas intercepted his third pass of the playoffs. The Chiefs then ran out the clock to capture the AFL's second consecutive Super Bowl triumph.

CHIEFS HALL OF FAME

In tribute to those who have made outstanding contributions to the success of the Kansas City Chiefs Football Club, the team has established a Hall of Fame. New inductees are selected by a three-man committee, representing the Chiefs Booster Club, the area media and the Chiefs organization. The award is presented annually at the "101 Banquet."

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN 1989

NT BILL MAAS

To move up on the Chiefs all-time sacks list. His 29 puts him in fourth place all-time, behind third-place holder Wilbur Young (35).

RB CHRISTIAN OKOYE

To break into the Chiefs all-time Top 10 rushing list. He begins the campaign with 1,133 yards and could jump in front of Joe Delaney (10th — 1,501) and Robert Holmes (9th — 1,689).

WR STEPHONE PAIGE

To continue his club record of 50 straight games with a catch and a streak of consecutive games played which is at 92.

To move up on the Chiefs all-time receptions list. He enters '89 with 259, putting him in sixth place. Just ahead are Ed Podolak (288) and Carlos Carson (299).

RB PAUL PALMER

To end the year with more career kickoff returns than any player in Chiefs history. He has 61, the fifth-most in team history, and the club record is 84 by Dave Grayson.

CB KEVIN ROSS

To move into the club's all-time Top 10 interception list. He begins the year with 17 and needs four more to tie Albert Lewis (21) for 10th place; next up is Jim Kearney (23).

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

The prestige of being inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame is a distinction reserved for only the elite personalities of pro football history. Four people who have played vital roles in the proud history of the Chiefs have been enshrined along with the other prominent football names. Team owner Lamar Hunt became the first AFL figure to be inducted into the Hall in 1972 and three Chiefs players have been added to the fabled list in the last five years. Linebackers Bobby Bell (1983) and Willie Lanier (1985) have been joined by the latest inductee, quarterback Len Dawson, who joined pro football immortals in the Class of 1987.

Dawson was the heart and soul of the Chiefs/Texans franchise during his illustrious career from 1962-75. During his tenure as the team's field general, Dawson helped make the Chiefs one of pro football's premier teams and he wound up among the elite passers in AFL and NFL history. Under Dawson's guidance, the Chiefs were perennial contenders and won AFL championships in 1962, 1966 and 1969. He led the team to two Super Bowls and was MVP of Super Bowl IV, the franchise's only World Championship. He won AFL individual passing titles in 1962, '64, '66 and '68. For many years, he was ranked as the No. 1 forward passer in history and with an 82.6 career rating, he still ranks eighth on the all-time list. Perhaps most of all, Dawson's playing career is remembered not only for his tremendous production, but also for his poise, firm leadership, intelligence and his classy demeanor. His place in Chiefs history went a long way in forming the franchise's rich tradition.

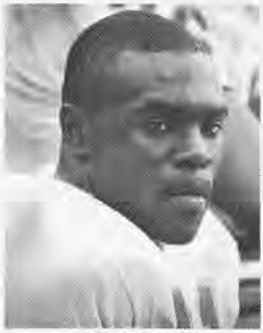
Three years ago, Lanier became the second Chiefs player to be inducted when he was part of the Hall's Class of 1986. The Chiefs starting middle linebacker for 11 years, Lanier possessed a ferocious tackling style that made him a feared run-stopper, plus the speed and agility that helped him make 27 career interceptions. A second round draft choice in 1967, Lanier missed just five games during his 11 seasons. He played in two AFL All-Star games, five Pro Bowl games and helped the Chiefs to their only World Championship, a Super Bowl IV victory over Minnesota.

Bell became the first Chiefs player to be enshrined in the Hall when he was chosen with the Class of 1983. Possibly the best outside linebacker to ever play the game, Bell was a superb athlete and actually began his pro career at defensive end because the Chiefs needed help at that position when he was drafted in the seventh round in 1963. By the time he retired in '74, Bell had earned All-AFL or All-AFC designation for eight consecutive years. During that span, he starred on two AFL Championship teams, played in Super Bowls I and IV, and was named to the all-decade team in '69.

Hunt, who founded the American Football League in 1960 with his Dallas Texans franchise, became the first AFLer to be voted into the Hall in 1972. Described during his induction ceremonies as the "architect, designer and builder of an impossible dream," Hunt has been and still is considered one of the most prominent figures in professional football. He serves as the president of the American Football Conference and, since 1984, the conference championship game trophy has carried his name.

Chiefs great Len Dawson was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on August 8, 1987.

MACK LEE HILL AWARD



JAMES SAXON

Each year since 1966, the Chiefs veteran players have selected a recipient for the Mack Lee Hill Award. It is a tribute to the late Mack Lee Hill, an outstanding running back who played for the Chiefs in 1964 and 1965. He was described as a man who played as much with his heart as he did with his driving legs in the early days of the American Football League.

In memory and tribute to Hill, the award is presented annually to the Chiefs rookie, who, as the inscription on the trophy reads — "best exemplifies the spirit of the late Mack Lee Hill . . . the man with the giant heart and quiet way."

The 1988 winner of the award was running back James Saxon. A sixth-round draft choice last year, Saxon was the surprise of the '88 season. The former San Jose State star played in every game and started the first and last two games of the season at fullback when Christian Okoye, the '87 Mack Lee Hill Award winner, was injured. Saxon finished the year with 236 yards rushing and 177 yards receiving. He played a key role in a pair of Chiefs wins. In a 38-34 win over the Jets, he scored the game-winning TD on fourth down with a one-yard plunge with two seconds left. He forced a fumble in the closing minutes to set up a game-winning field goal, helping to defeat the Bengals, 31-28.

Running back Mack Lee Hill bursts forward for yardage against the Raiders during his memorable two-year pro career with the Chiefs.

CHIEFS HISTORY

1959 — Lamar Hunt establishes and organizes the American Football League with six original cities — Dallas, New York, Houston, Denver, Los Angeles and Minneapolis (Buffalo and Boston were added and Oakland replaced Minneapolis). An unknown assistant at Miami (Florida), Hank Stram, is hired by Hunt to coach the club.

1960 — The Dallas Texans average 24,500 for home games in the Cotton Bowl during the AFL's inaugural season. The Texans Abner Haynes leads the new league in rushing.

1961 — The Texans and the NFL's Dallas Cowboys both draft highly-tauted center E.J. Holub, who chose to play in the fledgling new league. Hunt also signs three other rookies who would later join Holub in the Chiefs Hall of Fame — Jerry Mays, Fred Arbanas and Jim Tyrer.

1962 — Stram brings in Len Dawson, who spent six uneventful years in the NFL, to quarterback the club. Dawson is voted the AFL's player of the year as the Texans win the league championship when Tommy Brooker connects on a 25-yard field goal during the second overtime of the title game, giving Dallas a 20-17 victory over Houston.

1963 — On May 14, Lamar Hunt announces he is moving the franchise to Kansas City and renaming it the Chiefs. The Chiefs win their debut in Kansas City with a 28-7 victory over Houston in Municipal Stadium. Three rookies, Buck Buchanan, Ed Budde and Bobby Bell become starters on their way to a combined 526 games with the team.

1966 — The Chiefs sign Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett from USC en route to the AFC West title. Len Dawson leads the league in passing for the second time in three years.

1967 — The Chiefs defeat the Buffalo Bills, 31-7, on New Year's Day to win the franchise's second AFL Championship and earn a trip to Super Bowl I. The Chiefs play NFL powerhouse Green Bay Packers in the first NFL-AFL Championship Game on January 15 in the Los Angeles Coliseum, which was won by the Packers 35-10. The Chiefs add Hall of Famer Willie Lanier, Jim Lynch, Jan Stenerud and Noland (Super Gnat) Smith to an already star-studded team.

1970 —On January 4, the Chiefs defeat the Oakland Raiders 17-7, to capture the AFL championship. It is the final game in AFL history, as the Chiefs become the league's only three-time champions. The biggest moment in Kansas City sports history comes to a peak as the Chiefs become World Champions by defeating the Minnesota Vikings, who were two-touchdown favorites, by a score of 23-7, in Super Bowl IV. Len Dawson was named the game's MVP.

1971 — The Chiefs begin their first season of NFL play and win the AFC West title with a 16-14 win over Oakland at Municipal Stadium. Kansas City and Miami hook up in the longest game in NFL history. The Chiefs lose the AFC playoff game in double overtime, 27-24, in the last game played at Municipal Stadium.

1972 — Chiefs owner Lamar Hunt becomes the first AFL figure to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on July 29 in Canton, Ohio. The Chiefs open play in Arrowhead Stadium, one of the most impressive facilities in pro sports. The largest crowd in Chiefs history, 82,094, watches the home team defeat the Raiders on November 5.

1975 — Len Dawson, the top passer in Chiefs history, announces his retirement after 14 memorable seasons with the franchise.

1983 — Linebacker Bobby Bell becomes the Chiefs first player to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on July 30 in Canton.

1986 — Linebacker Willie Lanier is enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton on August 2. The Chiefs post a 24-19 victory at Pittsburgh to clinch an AFC Wild Card berth, the team's first playoff bid in 15 years. The Chiefs lose the playoff game to the New York Jets, 35-15, on December 28 in Giants Stadium.

1987 — Quarterback Len Dawson is inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on August 8 in Canton, just a few miles from his hometown of Alliance, Ohio.

1989 — President/General Manager Carl Peterson and Head Coach Marty Schottenheimer take over the Chiefs reigns.

Linemen aren't the only ones rushing

Everyone's on the move for Farmland's new nutritionally conscious meats.

We've tackled good taste to develop these winners: Farmland Lower Salt Bacon, Lower Salt Roll Sausage, Lower Salt/Less Fat Boneless Ham, and Lower Salt/Less Fat Smoked Sausage.

Still big on flavor, all that's missing is less salt and fat. You'll find all the smoked goodness and mouth-watering flavor of the past, with today's healthy ingredients.

Best of all, nothing's been added. No potassium chloride. No MSG. We simply smoked the meats a little longer in savory hickory chips. So you get a full juicy flavor without the additives. No wonder everyone's rushing off for a bite!

Lower salt, less fat. It's the best way to avoid mealtime penalties.

Farmland™

The best things come from Farmland.

1989 NFL Rules Changes

Instant Replay will return for the 1989 NFL season.

At the NFL annual meeting in March at Palm Desert, California, club owners, for the fourth consecutive year, voted to utilize a limited Instant Replay system as an officiating aid. The vote was 24-4.

Replay was first adopted in 1986. It is used if there is indisputable visual evidence on videotape of an obvious error by a field official on plays limited to possession and goal line and out-of-bounds decisions.

The Replay system in 1989 remains the same as the 1988 version when the Instant Replay official was assigned to work with the same seven-man, on-the-field crew throughout the regular season.

In other action, a joint proposal by the Long-Range Planning and Finance committees regarding player personnel also was adopted. The committees' recommendation for the first time sets offseason roster limits and the creation of a developmental squad. It also addressed roster cutdown dates and injured reserve. The teams agreed:

Until May 31: No more than 90 players under contract.

—June 1: No more than 80 players under contract.

—Roster cutdown to 60 players after third preseason game (August 29).

—Roster cutdown to 47 players Monday (September 4) prior to regular-season opener.

—Regular-season game roster of 45 players plus two inactive.

—Developmental squad of six players maximum per club established after final cut to 47 and comprised of only rookies/first-year players who have passed through waivers.

—Players placed on injured reserve during the preseason may not return to same club that year; also may not practice.

—Players placed on injured reserve after the final cut may return after six games by free reactivation (each club has five) or procedural-recall waivers.

—Two practice options: Option 1: After four weeks on injured reserve, player can practice for two weeks, then club must waive or activate; Option 2: After six weeks on injured reserve, player can be activated, waived, or begin unlimited practice. If practicing, player must count against developmental squad total of six.

Also, the NFL clubs approved the following:

—Further clarified the roughing-the-passer rule by prohibiting a defender who has an unrestricted path to the quarterback from flagrantly hitting him in the area of the knees when approaching from any direction.

—Specified that fouls which occur in the last five minutes of the fourth quarter as well as the last two minutes of the first half will result in the clock starting on the snap.

—Called for strong disciplinary measures against feigned injuries.

—Any entering substitute who participates in a play must enter while the ball is dead and must move onto the field as far as the inside field numerals; in addition, the player or players replaced must have cleared the field on their own side (between end lines) prior to the snap or free kick.

—Established a new set of procedures, including loss of team timeouts or a five-yard penalty on the defense, to handle the problem of crowd noise which prevents the offense from hearing its signals.

—Further liberalized blocking rule to permit a blocker to initially contact on or outside the opponent's frame of the body so long as the blocker works to bring his hands back on or inside the frame after initial contact.

—Changed the simultaneous catch rule so that the offensive or defensive player who first controls and continues to maintain control of a pass will be awarded the ball even though his opponent later establishes joint control of the ball.

—Prohibited the offense, while in the process of substitution or simulated substitution, from rushing quickly to the line and snapping the ball with the obvious attempt to cause a defensive foul. In such an instance, the umpire shall hold the snap, giving the defense a reasonable time to complete its substitution or if a defensive foul results, the flag will be picked up and the down replayed.

Instant Replay Approved for 1989

For the fourth consecutive season, NFL clubs have approved a limited system of Instant Replay on a one-year basis.

The system stays the same as in 1988. The Replay Official will be assigned a regular officiating crew and will attend crew meetings the day before each game.

The following table outlines the number of reversals and plays closely reviewed by Instant Replay in each of the previous three seasons.

	Games	Reversals	Plays Closely Reviewed
1986	224	38	374
1987	210	57	490
1988	224	53	537

In 1986, the system was approved by a 23-4-1 vote. In 1987, the vote was 21-7. In 1988, replay was cleared by a 23-5 margin. In 1989, the vote was 24-4.

The NFL has discussed Instant Replay in some degree or other since the early 1970s. The League experimented in 1976 and 1978 using two basic frameworks — an independent system using cameras, replay machines, and technicians separate from the network covering the games, and a "no-frills" approach using existing TV coverage.

In 1985, the NFL used the network feed of the nine nationally-televised preseason games to experiment with the basic system which later was adopted for 1986, 1987, and 1988. A total of 28 plays (17 confirmed call, 4 inconclusive, 1 reversed, and 6 no replay shown) were closely examined in the 1985 experiment.

Q—What is the objective of this system?

A—The clubs feel that on certain plays the telecast viewed by the general public should be used to correct an indisputable error. The system will be used to reverse an on-field decision only when the Replay Official has indisputable visual evidence available to him that warrants the change.

Q—Who will be involved?

A—The Replay Official (a former NFL or collegiate official) will be positioned in a sideline Replay Booth, which will house two TV monitors and two high-speed VCRs plus radio communications to the on-field officials. The Replay Official makes the decision although a Communicator (normally a member of the League Office staff) and a Technician also will be there to lend logistical help.

Q—Why is the system referred to as "limited" Instant Replay?

A—This system will concentrate on plays of possession or touching (e.g. fumbles, receptions, interceptions, muffs) and most plays governed by the sidelines, goal lines, end lines, and line of scrimmage (e.g. receiver or runner in or out of bounds, forward or backward passes, breaking the plane of the goal line). It also will be used to determine whether there are more than 11 men on the field.

Q—Why aren't most fouls included in this system?

A—It is recognized that in most circumstances the on-field officials have the best vantage points involving fouls. It is for this reason that Instant Replay will not review a list of the following 26 fouls:

1. Clipping
2. Encroachment or offsides
3. Grasp of facemask
4. False start
5. Defensive pass interference
6. Offensive pass interference
7. Offensive holding and illegal use of hands
8. Illegal batting or punching ball
9. Illegal block on free kick or scrimmage kick
10. Illegal crackback
11. Illegal motion
12. Illegal use of forearm or elbow
13. Illegal use of hands by defense
14. Illegally kicking ball
15. Illegally snapping ball
16. Intentional grounding
17. Member of punting team downfield early
18. Illegal formation
19. Palpably unfair act
20. Piling on
21. Roughing the passer
22. Running into/roughing kicker
23. Striking, kicking, or kneeing
24. Unnecessary roughness
25. Unsportsmanlike conduct
26. Use of helmet as a weapon

Q—Is the television network carrying the game part of the review process?

A—No. Although the Replay Official will be viewing the live network feed, there is no communication to television personnel as to which plays to show or not to show.

Q—What is the step-by-step procedure of a play review?

A—The Replay Official will view game action and a play will be replayed immediately on one of the two monitors, while the other one continues to record the live feed.

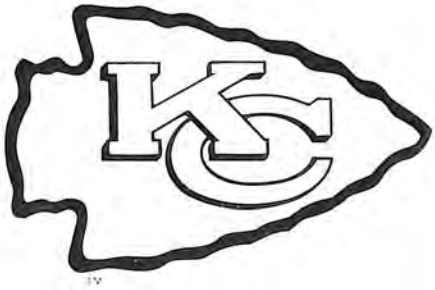
The Replay Official makes a determination if further study of the play is needed. If not, there is no contact with the field and play continues without interruption.

If the Replay Official believes an error may have been made the Umpire will be contacted via a headset.

The Replay Official will watch replay(s) on one or both monitors and complete his review within a reasonable period after the play is over.

The Replay Official will inform the Umpire of his decision, and the Referee will make the appropriate announcement on the wireless microphone.

GTE salutes the Kansas City Chiefs™



Last year, we participated in more games than any other team in the NFL. And as the official telecommunications consultant to the NFL, 7 NFL teams, the Pro Bowl and Super Bowls XX-XXIV, we plan to participate in even more games this year.
